PACELLI CONDEMNS IT

D.C. Drug Plan 'Political'?

By FRANK LaPIERRE

Daly City councilman Micheal DeBernardi's attempts to establish a 20-member citizens' committee to investigate the city's current drug problem was labled a political venture by fellow councilman Frank Pacelli Monday night.

"I'm surprised that councilman DeBernardi even brings it up at this time," Pacelli commented to the full board at Monday night's study session.

The council was given an outline of the drug committee proposal for the second time at the meeting. It was first brought forward at last week's regular council session and continued for discussion until the informal study session.

Both councilmen Pacelli and Edward J. Dennis flatly condemned the idea and pointed out it was tantamount to setting up a police review board.

"All of a sudden you pop out of the bag on this (drug committee) and you expect (the council) to go along with you. You're talking about setting up a police review board . . . tying their hands," Dennis said.

Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett asked if DeBernardi's proposal wasn't bypassing the police department?

"Who will give this committee directions?" Lycett asked.

"I would think, in general, they would work with the police," DeBernardi answered.

The committees' task, as DeBernardi saw it, would be to dig in and find out what is going on in the community regarding drug abuses and to make these facts known to the community at large.

He denied it was either a political venture (DeBernardi, Lycett and Dennis come up for re-election in April) or a "witchhunt."

And he disagreed with Dennis' accusation that he was attempting to "put down" the police department or school districts.

Opposition to the proposal centered around the mayor's admission that he wasn't qualified to select anyone for the committee "and I certainly am not qualified in the field myself."

Lycett suggested the city discuss the matter with school officials and police technicians before pursuing the suggestion further.

'Sinbad', The Cutter

S.S.F. Couple Off On Round the World Trip

By BOB PETERSON

Peggy's eyes revealed the look of a woman very much in love with her mechanic-turned-sailor husband.

Don Faust's eyes, too, showed olve for the woman of his life. But in their deep blueness one seemed also to see a beckoning sea. This was Friday afternoon.

Today, the Fausts are four days on the Pacific, toward a round-the-world jaunt in a 29-foot cutter named Sindbad.

They left South San Francisco's Oyster Point harbor, where their boat "has a home" upon their return, at 8:30 a.m. Saturday, amid cheers and a "count-down" by friends and relatives, Peggy dabbing at her now-wet eyes.

Don, with the cool, calm self-assuredness that allows a 44-year-old man to quit a job he's had for 17 years and take to the sea, maneuvered the craft toward the Golden Gate.

Have Passenger

For the first leg of the trip, the Fausts have a passenger, Jack Keltner. Jack, a fellow sailor and close friend, will leave the cutter at San Diego.

From that point on, many of the Fausts Peninsula friends and relatives probably won't see the couple for from three to five years.

Stateside, their mail will be forwarded to relatives in San Jose. But home now is on the cutter, where a nameplate reads, "Mr. and Mrs. Don D. Faust." "This tag has been on every home we've ever owned," said Don.

The Fausts' three grown children had three different reactions to their parents' journey. "The youngest boy, in the service, dosen't say much one way or the other," said Don.

Their daughter "just thinks it's (3-to-5 years) a long time." Peggy adds that the oldest boy "halfway would like to go but is married and has a family."

Mixed Reaction

Don said there also was a mixed reaction among his former co-workers at United Air Lines, "A lot of them wanted to go but couldn't, and many of them said they wouldn't be out on the water that long."

The Fausts admit there have been numerous offers from var-

TV Responsible

Women Will Not Dispatch In D.C.

Closed circuit television in today's jails is responsible for closing off yet another career opportunity for women—at least in Daly City.

Since the advent of cell scanning units, installed in all male cells at the Daly City jail, female police dispatchers have been a "no-no."

Monday night the council listened while city manager Dave Rowe presented the proposed duty statements for police dispatcher.

The statements had already been approved by the city's personnel commission.

The personnel board recommended that the salary schedule of "Police Dispatcher Clerk" be designated a "male" position and advanced to range 14.

"I don't like to see a position like this nailed down," Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett commented.

But Rowe insisted it was "not appropriate to have women as TV monitors."

Many police departments throughout the country use women as dispatchers, however their offices are normally separated from the jail facility and they have no contact with male inmates.

Daly City assigns a minimum of two male dispatchers in the main communications room, although a woman works the outside complaint desk during the day.

2nd City Opening Sign Removal Drive

A concentrated program for the removal of unauthorized signs, especially at service stations, is beginning in South San Francisco.

The planning commissioners have instructed City Planner Daniel Pass to request the city's building inspector to, as Pass put it, "remove the sleazy looking signs that give the city a scruffy appearance."

Pass said Millbrae's recent crackdown on unwanted signs has encouraged many planning commissions to take similar action.

In related action by the South San Francisco commissioners, incidentally, a use permit request of the Clay Development Company to locate a billboard at 177 South Airport was denied.

Commissioners also were informed by Achiro Sasaki, architect for Caesar Callan Homes, Inc., that a petition to amend the Westborough-West Park No. 1 and 2 planned community has been withdrawn.

"After further study, we feel a substantial revision to our requested amendment would be appropriate," said Sasaki in a letter to the commissioners. "It is anticipated that a revised application will be submitted to the planning commission at an early date for their consideration."

The amendment was to allow for comercial uses at the south west corner of Callan Boulevard and King Drive.

D.C. Teacher Fired In Drug Conviction

The Jefferson High School District in Daly City early Friday directed the immediate suspension and dismissal of a tenurde Westmoor High School art teacher, based on information that he was arrested and convicted earlier this year in Hawaii, for unlawful marijuana possession.

Selwyn Jones actually had been under suspension since the previous Tuesday.

He had been paid though not in his classroom, up until the time of the board's decision, after midnight Friday.

An assistant district attorney, Jerry Coleman, said Jones is suspended, without pay, and will be dismissed 30 days after he is served the legal papers involved in the decision by trustees following a late-hour executive session.

Dist. Supt. Edward D. Morgan, in a formal statement of charges, accused Jones, who has about 12 years' service in the district, with immoral conduct, convicted of a crime equal to a violation of Section 11530 of the Health and Safety Code, dishonesty, evident unfitness for service and conviction of a crime involving moral turpitude.

The notice of intent to dismiss alleges that Jones was convicted, on or about Aug. 22, 1969, of "unlawful possession or control of marijuana by the Circuit

A 'Soap Box' At Study Meet In SSF

The South San Francisco pre-council meeting Monday afternoon became a soap box for Ward A. Shoaf, office manager for the Lowrie Paving Company, Inc.

Shoaf's main target was David J. Friedenberg, attorney for the Westborough Homeowners Improvement Association.

Friedenberg has been a caustic critic of the slow progress being made on improvements of the Callan and Westborough intersection, in which Lowrie was contractor for the paving and signalization.

He intensified his attack recently in a letter to the councilmen in which he urged adoption of a resolution calling upon the city to envoke the penalty provisions of the contract.

The city has held up acceptance of the improvements be-

SSF Personnel Board To Set Criteria For Picking Chief

It's official. South San Francisco will hold an open examination for the position of chief of police.

However, just how, or who will give what type of examination remains uncertain. For, in addition to authorizing the open exam, the city councilmen also tabled a resolution Monday that would have clarified personnel rules and regulations in this matter.

Theoretically, the results of the item being tabled means that the decision as to the type of examination rests with the city's personnel board.

According to city attorney John Noonan, there is a conflicting interpretation of the present rules.

One section says that the appointing authority (the councilmen) "may instruct the board as to type of exam," while another section says the board "may specify" which type of exam would be given.

At the same time as this resolution was tabled, a second item concerning introduction and first reading of an ordinance to revise the personnel rules and regulations also was tabled.

The changes would have enabled the councilmen to name specifications and requirements for the vacancy and to authorize the calling for an open examination.

Every move the councilmen made was under close scrutinization by nearly 150 residents. There was standing room only in the audience, with many persons listening to the proceedings from the hallway to the council chambers.

And the list of people from this obvioulsy biased (in opposition to the open exam) group speaking out on the subject was long enough to cover the chevrons and service bars of a uniformed police officer's arm.

Mayor Frank Bertucelli opened the discussion, which soon became a public hearing, by stating emphatically that he was against the open examination. He said that he and Councilman Patrick Ahern had opposed the open exam since the last executive session when the councilmen let their wishes be known.

One member of the audience, Lorraine Cooper, a member of the South San Francisco Unified School Board, who was speaking

Improvements At Bocce Ball Courts Asked

An urgent plea for toilets at the bocci ball courts on East Market Street came before the Daly City Council Monday and the response was less than enthusiastic.

While conceding there was probably a need for the rest rooms, mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett pointed out that there were many problems surrounding the comfort stops.

For example, policing the facility to protect the structure itself from vandalism and users from certain undesirables that frequent such places, is always a problem the mayor explained.

But Hillside Homeowners' Improvement Association president Jerry Delfino persisted in his attempt to provide the shelters and noted in a letter to the council that bocce ball players and spectators would settle for a portable toilet — as long as it was provided quickly!

No One Hurt—Noonan

Firm Says SSF Wrong To Let Pool Contract

South San Francisco City Atty. John Noonan says no one has been hurt by the fact the Orange Park swimming pool contract was let without the contractor specifying any subcontractors.

Following the advice of their city attorney, councilmen adopted a resolution that would authorize the giving of their consent for the contractor to obtain subcontractors.

John O'Leary of the Peninsula Electrical Bid Registry Service and James Marsh, president of the James Marsh Company aren't convinced Noonan is right. The Marsh Company was the only one submitting a list of subcontractors with their bid on the project.

The contract was awarded to the Martinelli Construction Company for a low bid of $436,-014. Marsh's bid was $442,100. Marsh, at the October 6 council meeting, requested the councilmen look into the matter and find his company the lowest responsible bidder.

City Atty. John Noonan was instructed to study the situation and report back to the councilmen last night. He did. And his report re-enforced his previous belief that the councilmen were safe in their contract award.

Noonan cited two specific governmental codes. One saying that if bidders did not list subcontractors, the prime contractor is responsible for completing this aspect of the job himself.

Another section of the law he quoted says that these prime contractors, at a later date, and upon "finding of necessity," may obtain permission from the contract awarding body to hire subcontractors.

"We think the city attorney's way off base," said Marsh. "We think the city did wrong in awarding the contract to a firm that did not list subcontractors."

Marsh said his firm, which is a general contracting firm, is "studying very carefully" the decision of the council.

Pacifica Councilman

Quarry Battle Called 'Farce'

"It's a farce," Pacifica Councilman Harland Minshew said. "You've already got a Frankenstein up there staring at you."

"Your attitude toward this problem is to let George do the policing, or it will go away," complained Pacifica resident Samuel A. Mahnken, whose home was near an earth quarry.

Although both Pacifica citizens were referring to different earth quarries, the problem seemed the same.

In the words of Minshew, "When is a quarry a quarry and when is it land use development?"

The councilman last week was responding to a complaint of another local resident, Norman Rosenbaum, who was protesting the quarry permit recently granted to clear the area on the top of Shore Park Road.

Rosenbaum said that the original company which applied for the quarry permit four years before had promised to be out within the year.

Rosenbaum's complaint came after Mahnken had earlier presented a petition to the council bearing 77 signatures protesting the renewal of a use permit granted to Challenge Developments, Inc., for the operation of a quarry on Milagra ridge.

Charles Tripeletti, vice-president of Challenge Developments, Inc., noted that the real problem was the quarry use should be covered by land use permits.

He Quits Job

Couple On World Cruise

ious people suggesting they come along as crew members.

But the Fausts are happy to go it alone.

Don, who has been sailing since he was 14, first dreamed of his round-the-world voyage at age 16. He wanted to do it in a craft equal to the one he saw in the motion picture, "The Seven Voyages of Sindbad." Many years later, in October, of 1966, he tacked the Sindbad name onto a boat hull he had bought.

One year, 10 months and 20 days from that date, in August of 1966, Sindbad was launched. She's now under way on her toughest test.

The vessel, valued by Don at close to $15,000 when fully equipped, should take the three-year trip with only one paint job. If the couple is gone for the five-year period, a second painting may be required.

Equipment includes a radio that will reach 50 miles, "and," says Don, "at night and in good weather it will reach up to 800 or 900 miles.

"Material-wise, the sails should hold up during the entire trip," added Don. He fashioned the synthetic fabric into sails himself, as he has made every part of the cutter, with the help of his wife.

MOVING OUT—The 29-foot cutter, Sindbad, is being guided out of South San Francisco's Oyster Point harbor on a 3-to-5-year round the world cruise.

Peggy pointed proudly to a three-burner kerosene stove, with all burners in a row, and said, "He even made that. Most three burner stoves have the burners in a triangle shape."

The Fausts have planned and conscientiously worked toward this trip for the past six years.

"We're leaving the time loose," said Don. "Because we don't know how long we're going to stay at the various places we come to. The trip normally takes three years.

"Most places we're going don't have a language barrier. You can make yourself understood. There's nothing to navigating with today's modern equipment. Just look it up in the tables."

If there's anything of a negative aspect to the trip, it would be only that the Fausts' documented vessel is not insured. It costs too much, Don feels. "Twelve per cent of the gross value of the boat per year is the cost of the premiums."

For Don, "It's really not a challenge. We just want to take our time and see what we can of out-of-the-way places.

"Working for the airlines," said Don, "gave us many opportunities to fly to many places, but we've never had the time to explore."

Tall and slim, with sharp features and his blond hair in a crew-cut, Don exemplifies the high school coach, local policeman or major league ballplayer.

Retirement Pay

After 17 years — "17 years, four months and one day," says Don — with United Air Lines, he flat quit. Don took the money he had been putting in the company's retirmeent fund for the past 14 years to help finance the trip. "I spent 45 minutes writing travelers checks," he said with a grin.

He estimates the trip will cost about $6,000. That doesn't include all the color film he has for his 16mm movie camera.

On their return, the Faust's plan to go on tour with their films of the trip. Don also has a 35mm underwater camera, and is an accomplished scuba diver.

Incidentally, he also holds a private pilot's license.

Is the trip a challenge for the wife?

"Definitely," says Peggy, her brown hair pulled back into two short rubber band-held braids. "I didn't have my first sailboat ride until we launched Sindbad in 1964," she said. "And we really haven't been anywhere, mostly coastal runs.

"The ocean is going to be a challenge. But I'm looking forward to the peace and serenity we'll find. I love traveling and going into foreign ports will be one of the greatest experiences of a lifetime."

She plans to while away her time with music from a tape deck, reading books, sewing and, of cousre, cooking. "I'm going to try to compile a cookbook from our trip," she said. The foods stored aboard the craft are mostly canned goods.

"We have 100 days supply of dehydrated food for emergency purposes," said Don. "Other than that we have provisions for four months on board." There's an equal amount of water and as Don said, "Water is sometimes a problem and sometimes not. You can always catch rain."

Don said he expected seasickness the first day out. Peggy felt sure of it. "We also have a good stock of vitamins," said Peggy.

Harbor Hop in Mexico

After the pair pick up their visas in Los Angeles and drop their passenger off in San Diego, they plan to harbor-hop along Mexico's coast.

They will pass by all the little Central America countries to Panama. "We have a Christmas dinner engagement in Panama with people we've never met," beamed Peggy. "We have lists upon lists of names of various people to see and visit along the way."

Then it's on to the Galapagos Islands, the Marquesas Islands and Tahiti. "We want to be in Tahiti in July," chimmed in Don. "The French there celebrate Bastille Day like you've never seen the 4th of July celebrated here." Also included in the year to year-and-a-half tour of the South Pacific is the Island of Fiji.

The route, which is, incidentally, a fairly commonly followed path, leads to New Zealand and on to Australia. They'll stop by Sydney and cross over to the Indian Ocean.

"We'd like for the Arabs and the Jews to settle their differences so we could go through the Suez Canal," said Peggy.

"One place we're sure going to stop," added Don, "is the Seychellse Islands. (They're located in the Indian Ocean, northest of Madagascar). "These are some of the few islands not botheerd too much by civilization. There's no air strip and a freighter stops about every month or so with mail and supplies. You can stay in the hotel for $3.30 a day."

If the Faust's are unable to navigate the Mediterranean and Red Sea area, They'll go down around the tip of South Africa. This will mean a stop at Cape Town. Then it's on to Ascension, Barbados and the Virgin Islands, Puerto Rico, and Jamaica. There undoubtedly will be many stops in between.

Dropping south to Panama will complete the global trip. The Fuast's indicated they may possibly come home via Hawaii, because they will bypass it on their scheduled trip.

Since he's going to be a long-time sailor, Don was asked if he was going to grow a beard. "His answer: "Nope. I can't sleep with one. It tickles me."

Court in the Fifth Circuit of the State of Hawaii."

It contended that the crime in Hawaii also would constitute a violation in California and that Jones "willfully and intentionally failed to make a full disclosure of said conviction although he knew, or should have known conviction prohibited him from performing his duties as a teacher.

Morgan said formally he believed the teacher in this respect was dishonest.

It was specified that the superintendent was "informed and believes on that basis alleged" that Jones is a risk and that "he will continue to engage in the illegal consumption of narcotics and, accordingly, is unfit to continue his services as a teacher of the children of the district."

Morgan in placing the charges before trustees called the alleged Jones acts "reasonable cause" for his suspension and subsequent dismissal.

A spokesman for the district said some petitions bearing the names of students and teachers had been received by the administration supporting Jones, urging the suspension be lifted.

Jones, a San Francisco resident, has right of appeal.

He is the third teacher in the district to have charges brought against him in the past 1½ years.

One of the others, David Englund, was dismissed. The other, a tenured teacher — Gene Lipson — was censured by the board.

It was disclosed recently by the American Federation of Teachers, Jefferson Local 1481, that it would continue to fight the Englund dismissal.

Bob Delzell, president of the local, acknowledged last week that Jones was a member of the AFT, having just recently rejoined, but at the time Delzell would not comment on the Jones matter.

An art teacher for 12 years in the Daly City high School, Jones said he will appeal his ouster.

Jones, 47, was arrested in his Kauai hotel room after an informer told police there were drugs in the room. He pleaded no contest August 22 and was fined $200 and placed on two years' probation.

Open Exam For Chief

"as a private citizen," questioned whether the councimen didn't violate the Brown Act if they indeed had voted on the matter in executive session.

This line of thought paled in the wake of the seemingly more important issue.

Said Councilman Frank Mammini, "Since the recent release of the two most important statements this city has heard this year — the resignation of the chief and the ensuing possibility of an open exam to fill the post — pandemonium has reigned.

"According to outside sources there are supposedly members of this council who have already made a pre-determined choice for Chief Fabbri's post. What is not easy to understand is how a simple request for an open examination can be opposed so strongly by certain factions."

He strongly suggested some "soul searching" be done by those people "crying political football. It is they who are politically lobbying for the candidate of their choice."

Mammini said the council is legally, as well as morally, within their rights to hold an open examination.

"If the qualified individual is within our department," questioned Mammini, "Then what is there to fear from opening up the examination and positively proving, by the democratic process, that we will end up with the best possible man for this all-important position?

"Chief Fabbri was appointed Chief of Fremont only after an open election in that city. We know they got the best man for the job. Can we honestly want less for our own city?"

$500,000 Suit In Stabbing

A $500,000 damage suit was filed in Superior Court Monday by the parents of an 18-year-old Pacific boy who was fatally stabbed in a fight with another student at Terra Nova High School last February 10.

Albert and Harriett Tassi ask the damages of the Jefferson Union High School District, 18-year-old Ronald Woodruff and his parents, Rodney and Shirley Woodruff.

The suit alleges that school authorities and the parents failed to exercise proper supervision over the Woodruff boy.

Mr. and Mrs. Tassi ask $250,000 general damages, $250,000 punitive and exemplary damages, and reimbursement of medical, hospital, funeral and burial expenses.

Police reported at the time that the boys, both seniors and members of the school band, had quarreled over a bumping incident in a hallway. Young Woodruff was convicted in Juvenile Court of a charge of manslaughter.

Pacelli Raps DC Drug Plan As 'Political'

While agreeing with Dennis that citizens are "committee weary," Lycett said the city should instead work with police and school officials on the drug matter.

Lycett explained "I am also deeply concerned' with the increasing drug porblem — especially among school-aged youth.

Pacelli's outburst brought out in public for the first time rumored differences between the two councilmen — former business associates.

City Manager David Rowe was told to check with police and have an officer qualified in this field to attend the next study session.

Hillsborough Woman Wins Grid Contest

Mrs. Rosalind Weinfield, Hillsborough, is the weekly winner of two tickets to the Big Game in the Times-Post football contest.

Mrs. Weinfield, with the help of Ken, her 11-year-old son, correctly picked the winner of 13 out of 15 contest games and guessed within five yards the net offensive yardage of the 49ers against Atlanta.

The cash jackpot in this week's contest will be increased to $300 payable to a contestant correctly selecting the winners of all 15 games.

Additionally, a $50 bonus will be paid to a cash winner who is currently a home-delivered reader of The Times.

DC Interchange Wins Award

The Cabrillo Interchange, at the junction of the Junipero Serra Freeway (Interstate Route 280) and Route 1, in Daly City, has recently been awarded first prize for "The Most Outstanding Highway Structure" in the second annual Highway Beauty competition sponsored by the U.S. Department of Transportation in all 50 states.

cause the completion of the work extended beyond the specified date on the contract.

According to the contract, the city was to receive $100 per day penalty for each work day past the deadline. City Manager Tom McKenzie was to have gotten together with Lowrie representatives and "work something out" on this matter.

"I'm annoyed at the shots being taken by David Friedenberg," said Shoaf. "He has something on his mind other than facts.

"To me, there's an indication that Friedenberg is out to tear down the city organization to make it look like it needs some improvement.

"Friedenberg is an attorney yet he's deliberately distorting the facts," said Shoaf in referring to the letter which also gave a work chronology on the project.

Shoaf went on to explain that his company actually lost money, not counting the still unpaid penalty, on the project.

"Our bid was $64,000," he said. "The engineer's estimate was $67,000. That's a difference of $375. And the next lowest bidder was $75,000. The highest bidder was $19,695 higher than our bid."

He said the project cost Lowrie $78,349 of which the city pays only $69,240. "That figures out that it cost Lowrie $9,108 to do the job," said Shoaf. "We sure didn't drag out this project so it would cost us more money."

curred later on. "You have a little more muscle when you put it under land use and development," he commented. As it is, the councilman argued, the land should be developed to its contours, "instead of trying to make an additional profit off it by quarrying it."

That was when he made the comment about the whole thing being a farce. Because, he added companies come in needing a quarry permit and say they only want it to grade the land for land use purposes. Then they go ahead and quarry, he said.

Atlhough the council voted to deny Mahnken's appeal on the granting of the quarry permit to Challenge Developments, it was not before they moved to inspect the area regularly, and hear regular reports.

Mayor Nick Gust said, "It's unfortunate that the quarry is next to your property. But I don't think you'll ever find a quarry without a dust problem." He did say though, that the city would move to stop the racers.

UCLA Band To Perform In Pacifica

Details for the second visit of the UCLA band to the Jefferson High School District were announced by Supt. Edward Morgan.

Jefferson District personnel will meet the group at 9:30 a.m. Friday, leading the bandsmen to Westmoor High in Daly City, where a two-hour rehearsal has been scheduled.

After lunch in the cafeteria the entourage will go to Oceana High in Pacifica — at 2 p.m. — for a 15-minute program prior to the Oceana-El Camino football game. The UCLA band then will join the Oceana band for the national anthem.

Gunshots Punctuate Chase In Bruno Neighborhood

A San Bruno police detective shot an armed robbery suspect in an exchange of gunfire Thursday during a chase in which the suspect fled a finance company, and ran a circuitious route and collapsed from exhaustion almost at the point where he started.

Wounded by Officer Jack Gibson after the suspect fled from a back door of the Public Finance Company at 362 El Camino Real was 36-year-old Allen H. Spaulding, who was rushed first to Peninsula Hospital in Burlingame for emergency treatment.

Two other suspects were taken into custody by other San Bruno police. They were sitting in a car in front of the finance company's office, according to the duty sergeant at the time of the incident, William Rodgers.

They were identified as Jack Lynn Jordan, 33, an Oakland transient, and Charles Lee Culpeper, 40, 316 Parket Street, Rodeo.

Motorcycle Patrolman Ed Thune, making a routine check of the finance firm, became suspicious and radioed headquarters, alerting police there of a possible armed robbery in progress.

He entered the office and saw one of two suspects — identified later as Spaulding and Jordan — enter the back room with a loan officer. At the same time, a cashier approached Thune and informed him that such was not normal procedure.

Thune went back to the rear, where he saw the manager talking with Spaulding. Thune inquired if everything was allright. The manager replied the man was a "personal friend."

In the meantime, suspect Jordan had left the business, but returned a short while later to ask Thune how to properly handle a citation for defective mufflers, Rodgers explained.

When Thune got outside, another employe of the finance company came out and said she thought there was "something wrong" inside.

Thune radioed for "cover," then advised the woman to remain outside, since plainclothes police officers were en route.

Police units began to arrive, and suspect Spaulding, whose address was listed as 1527 Humboldt Street, San Pablo, darted out a back entrance with Detective Gibson in pursuit. Rodgers, in reconstructing the case, said the suspect first ran north on Mastic, then east on Taylor, before doubling back south on Chapman.

He stopped, then, in front of 340 Chapman, and at a range of some 48 feet whirled on Gibson and began firing—getting off three rounds, Rodgers recalled, before Gibson fired at least two shots.

Even though wounded, the fleeing man continued running. He dashed into the home at 340 Chapman — much to the astonishment of its occupants, climbed out a rear window, ran across three or four backyards and leaped fences.

The woman in the house at 340 Chapman opened her front door, probably having heard the shooting outside. As she did, the suspect barged in and closed the door.

As soon as Spaulding had gone out the back window, the resident opened the door and told police the suspect had gone out.

By this time, Rodgers had joined Gibson in the chase, which eventually ended shortly before 1 p.m. at Garden and Mastic Streets, across the street from the rear of the finance company almost where he started.

Spaulding collapsed as he emerged from a tree-studded yard and was taken into custody.

Authorities in San Bruno had high praise for its citizens' participation in the apprehension of Spaulding.

Near the start of the chase, Detective Gibson was given a ride in a private auto that already had at least three passengers, Rogers said.

The robbery suspects did not get any money from the finance company itself, but did take, according to authorities, a wallet from one of the employes. It contained little money, however.

Spaulding was treated for a flesh wound of the right chest at Peninsula Hospital before transfer to County General Hospital in San Mateo, then to the County Jail, police said.

Suspects In SSF Robbery Are Held

Four San Francisco men were arrested in Millbrae on Friday on charges of possessing a loaded and concealed pistol, and as suspects in armed robberies in Sausalito and South San Francisco.

Police Sgt. James Bauman reported he found a .45 calibre Colt automatic under the front seat of the car, after stopping it in a coffee shop parking lot at El Camino Real and Murchison Drive.

Sgt. Bauman had been on routine patrol, he said, when he noticed the passing car with four men in it. The car seemed to match the description broadcast after a robbery attempt early Thursday in South San Francisco, he reported.

Two of the occupants seemed to match the description of the suspects in the South San Francisco case, he said, so he stopped the car.

In the vehicle, said Sgt. Bauman were:

Kenneth Earl Armstrong, 27, charged with possessing a loaded and concealed weapon, and as a suspect in an armed robbery at Sausalito.

John Allen Nalls, 20, charged wit possessing a loaded and concealed weapon, as a suspect in the South San Francisco robbery attempt, and as a suspect in the Sausalito robbery.

Isaac Jenkins Jr., 19, charged with possessing a loaded and concealed weapon, and as a suspect in the Sausalito and South San Francisco robberies.

Willie L. Lee, 20, accused of possessing a loaded and concealed weapon, and as a suspect in the Sausalito robbery.

The witness, Thomas F. Butler, 26, a soldier, had complained to police that as he was waiting for a bus, on El Camino Real at Orange Avenue, about 2:30 a.m., Thursday, two men approached him, he said, asked for a cigarette, and then demanded his money.

After convincing the two that he had no money, Butler called police.

Bruno CC Sets Slate For 1970

Robert Miller, realtor and Republican leader, was elected to fill a vacancy on the San Bruno Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors.

At their Tuesday meeting, October 14th, the San Bruno Chamber of Board of Directors also voted to recognize the outstanding work of the San Mateo County Better Business Bureau by awarding them an Honorary Membership in the San Bruno Chamber of Commerce.

Membership Chairman A.M. Race, manager and vice-president of the Bank of America, submitted eight applications for membership in the San Bruno Chamber. The board of directors voted the following persons be accepted as members: C. B. Beasley, Better Business Bureau; Lois Brockway, San Bruno Welcome Service; Donald J. Devoto, The Hilton Inn; Dr. Alan Hafter, Dentist; Viko Ivancich, Roma Italian Delicatessen and Restaurant; Mary A. Johnson, Curl'N Swirl, Salon of Beauty; Dorothy Malone, Welcome Wagon International; Larry B. Mobley, resident, Louis R. Schroeder, Air transport Employees, Local 1781.

"This brings the total membership up to 204 members," Race said. "Displaying the "We're Involved in San Bruno" decal means the firm or store is a member of the chamber. You can be sure the establishment is concerned with our community and is involved in promoting a better business climate for the benefit of the entire community."

In other action, the San Bruno Chamber Board of Directors approved the following nominations for the 1970-71 Board of Directors: John Barnard, State Farm Insurance agent; Art Basmajian, Art's Peninsula Locksmith; John Berglund, State Farm Insurance agent; Marshall Bloss, owner, Peninsula Auto Center; John Bowlds, owner, San Bruno Funeral Home; Harvey Brenner, manager, Eureka Federal Savings; Harry Costa, owner, Custom Stamps & Stationery; Jim Faverman, owner, Key Pharmacy; Joseph Galligan, Attorney; Jim Holderby, manager, The Bank of California; Josh Maule, Jr., Maule's Drugs; Juan Mir, Sales manager, American Airlines; Mrs. Jonnie Mooney, owner, Serv-All Employment Agency; Jud Raifschneider, San Bruno Maple and Gift Shop; Roger Reeve, Advertising Manager, San Bruno Herald and Recorder-Progress; Florin Rhoads, owner, Rhoads Hardware; Phil Sheldon, manager, El Camino Funeral Chapel; James M. White, owner Whities Auto Parts, Robert Wilson, manager, Crocker Citizens Bank.

These nominees will be voted upon the first Tuesday in November by all the members of the San Bruno Chamber of Commerce to fill ten seats on the board of directors or the 1970-71 term. Additional nominees may be made by any two members who file the nomination with the manager within five days.

Tight Squeeze, Variance OK

Mrs. Roy Kaylor put it this way, "We have to squeeze between the chairs and the table and go in single file to be seated. The first one in is the last one out."

She was explaining "hardship" to San Bruno councilmen in her plea to overturn a denial by planning commissioners of a variance request for a kitchen addition at her home, 2469 Trenton Drive.

The Kaylor's succeeded.

Councilman George Corey, however, voted affirmatively with some trepidation.

"We have been telling the planning commissioners that they have been too lenient," said Corey. "Now we are overruling their decision."

Corey pointed out that he was glad the planning commission vote was tight (3-2) which indicated it was a hard decision to make.

He asked Councilman Maurice Hamilton, the council's liaison to the planning commission, to explain the circumstances of the concilmen's decision to the commissioners.

"We still want them to be tough," said Corey.

Reasons the planning commissioners gave for not granting the variance of a foot-and-a-half setback were:

1. No exceptional and extraordinary circumstances and conditions applied to the land, building and use.

2. Granting of the variance was not necessary for the preservation and enjoyment of substantial property rights of the petitioner.

3. Granting would affect adversely the health or safety of persons residing or working in the neighborhood of the property.

4. The variance would not be in harmony with the general purpose of the city code.

Roy Kaylor presented some "reasons" of his own.

He told the councilmen the present area was too congested for eight persons to eat.

Kaylor said there would be no loss of privacy, and neighbors have no objections. He submitted a petition of 50 nearby residents to emphasize this point — and a half dozen neighbors accompanied him to the council meeting.

"A blank wall will face a blank wall," said Kaylor, "and we will still have more than nine feet between homes. That's at least three or four more feet more than many nearby homes have."

Twelve Arrested At D.C.

In addition to the occupant, 12 persons have been booked on various narcotics violations after they continued to visit apartment 6147A on Mission Street in Daly City Friday night.

Daly City police said they have had the apartment under surveillance for some time as a site frequented by known narcotics users. All those arrested had either Daly City or San Francisco addresses.

Last night a posse led by Capt. John Walsh and Sgt. John Kolbmann visited the apartment with a search warrant.

The occupant, Leland Belfils, 25, subsequently was booked on suspicion of possession of narcotics, possession of marijuana, keeping a house where narcotics are being used, having a hypodermic kit, an opium pipe and related paraphernalia, plus possession of stolen property.

The others were arrested on suspicion of possession of narcotic paraphernalia and possession of stolen property. At least seven persons were booked on suspicion of visiting a house where narcotics are being dispensed or sold.

Police said that after they had made initial contact at approximately 8:45 p.m. more visitors would continually show up at the apartment. In each case, where visitor indicated a desire to purchase narcotics or in other ways join the group, the suspect was arrested. The arrests continued until approximatelp 1:30 this morning.

Those booked included: Timothy Norman, 19; Cletus Johnson, 20; Alfred Barazoto, 30; Patricia Forslund, 28; Marjorie Lees, 24; Yvonne Nichols, 33; Laureen Mecchi, 20; Renee Anoai, 19; James Lees, 30; Glen Nichols, 31; Andrew Cavallero, 30, and Maureen Gomez, 28, who also had a .38 revolver in her possession.

Crestmoor High Jumps The 'Generation Gap'

Friday, October 31, will be Senior Citizen Day at Crestmoor High School in San Bruno.

Sound unbelievable in this day of "alienation between the generations?"

It doesn't sound that way to the members of Mrs. Sharon Dunn's English Insights class. The special sophomore program, federally funded and begun in 1968, involves its students with all phases of community life.

Members of the Insights class are planning the day as a "thank you" to the Millbrae Senior Citizens Club for inviting the class to its picnic in September.

The mayors of San Bruno and Millbrae, the City Administrators of both cities and members of the Park and Recreation Department will also attend the special event. But the real stars of the day will be the senior citizens themselves.

The day will begin with a luncheon at 11 a.m. Next, the elderly people will form groups and take guided tours of the school, stopping along the way to witness a language laboratory demonstration, a drama skit, new audio-visual equipment, and several classes in session.

All money for the event is being raised by the class. Two car washes, on October 11 and 18, helped swell the coffers.

One member of the Insights class, Carol Hinter, talked about the program this way:

"Insights offers us a concrete way of becoming active in the nitty-gritty of our community. And it helps us develop a sense of responsibility and self-reliance. It's also a happy class. Once we wrote spontaneous 'thank-you' letters to old teachers, parents, friends, just for the joy of saying 'thank-you.'

"This sense of spontaneits — joy — is extending into all that we do."

Members of the Millbrae Senior Citizens Club meet at the Millbrae Community Methodist Church twice a month.

Bandits Repeat In D.C.

Two armed robberies were reported in Daly City Saturday night within an hour of each other and police suspect the same person was involved in both crimes.

Debbie Smith of Daly City was walking along the "top of the hill" section of Mission Street about 8:40 p.m. when a man robbed her of her purse containing some $41 at gunpoint.

She described her assailant as a Negro adult wearing a black leather jacket and boots, 6 feet in height, with an Afro hairstyle.

He was armed with a small gun.

At 9:40 p.m., two men—one fitting the same description of the man who held up Miss Smith—held up the Mission Drive-In Theater at 500 Guttenberg Road and fled with an undisclosed amount of cash from the ticket booth. The booth attendant told police a Negro male, about 20 years old, 6 feet, weighing between 160-170 pounds, shoved a chrome-plated gun through the ticket window and demanded the night's receipts.

His companion appeared to be unarmed and was described as a Negro male in his early twenties, 6 feet 2 inches, weighing between 160-170 pounds.

Both suspects wore Afro hairstyles.

They fled in a dark green two-door sedan toward San Francisco.

The South San Francisco Arts Guild have launched their "second season" with a photographic display by the Sunset Camera Club of San Francisco at West Orange Library Gallery, West Orange with a gala reception for adult Guild members and guests.

The new exhibit is to be open to the general public Wednesday, October 22 through Tuesday, Octobrt 28 from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. daily.

Sunset Camera Club had its first official meeting in August, 1952, with about 20 members after Don Hansen, an original charter member, and Howard Parker of Hap's Camera Shop, then located in the Sunset District of San Francisco, did some initial advertising and casting about for likely members. Sunset Camera Club is now one of 26 other camera clubs in the Bay Area, all members of the Northern California Council of Camera Clubs, and is presently located at 50 Scott Street in the San Francisco Recreation Center and meets there every Wednesday night.

Purpose of the club is to further interests and learning in composition and technique in photography as a hobby and to help each other by having programs along this line, plus monthly competitions with constructive criticism by qualified judges; week-end or one-day field trips are followed up with critiques by the members.

The club also puts out a monthly bulletin called the "Chatterbox" of which Emile Thomas is editor, and another charter member. Club bulletins from all over the world are judged once a year and the Sunset "Chatterbox" has taken a number of awards for excellence in editorial material and appearance.

Last Week Of 'Portrait'

The final curtain will be drawn on the Pacifica Spindrift Players final weekend of "Portrait in Black" on Friday and Saturday evening, October 24 and 25, at 8:30 p.m., at Oddstad Center, Crespi Drive, Pacifica.

The popular mystery drama has been playing to capacity audiences with many favorable comments. A few years ago, Hollywood crews set up shop in Pacifica for their own version, which starred Lana Turner and Anthony Quinn.

The cast includes: Charlene Amick, Bob Lawson, Prince Serrecchia, Kurt Russ, Bobby Riglin, Kyne Catton, Patti Cort, and Bonnie Jespersen.

The production director is Aubrey Lumley.

The play takes place in the San Francisco area, and in particular Devil's Slide. Several local names are used in reference and many firms of the community have helped in the production through donation of furniture, fashions and properties.

Urban Sprawl Battled By S.M. County

By FRANK LAPIERRE

County Supervisor (Mrs.) Jean Fassler gave a generalized state of the county speech before the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce in Daly City Thursday.

The briefing covered various projects either recently completed or now being undertaken throughout the county — with emphasis on local programs.

Supervisor Fassler was selected as guest speaker for the final meeting chaired by outgoing president Elio Fontana. For the next 12 months, the chamber will be led by PG&E company executive Don Halverson.

During an explanation on the Local Agency Formation Commission (LAFCO) which explained in some detail that group's responsibilities and authority, Supervisor Fassler pointed out that one of LAFCO's functions is to discourage "urban sprawl," like that being experienced in San Jose.

LAFCO can also deny formation of special districts where the need is not clearly demonstrated, she said.

The commission has worked with 16 cities in establishing mutual boundary lines in the county, she explained.

Before closing her comments on LAFCO, supervisor Fassler pointed to the "Broadmoor problem" as an example of the commission's responsibilities and said the matter was scheduled to again be brought up before LAFCO—this time on an appeal from residents.

Daly City Councilman Edward J. Dennis urged Supervisor Fassler to push for the proposed county service building for Daly City.

The building would be used by county offices, school administration offices and courts.

"We really need that building," Dennis said. "And we would like to see Judge Charles Becker's court moved from 75 Wellington to this new building when it is done."

The "old city hall" on Wellington has been designated for use as a public library once the muni court was been relocated.

Fassler replied that several things temporarily blocked construction of the county building, including the current "tight money" situation and the additional cost of new facilities being borne by county taxpayers.

"The cost of government is such that we must stop and review where we are . . . I don't want any more taxation," Fassler said.

She said there were still many things to do at the courthouse in South San Francisco.

"There is no place for juries — or even a place to buy a cup of coffee," she explained.

Meanwhile, a joint meeting of county, Daly City and Jefferson High School staff is scheduled to meet to discuss the proposed structure Wednesday.

Dollars Fight Delinquency In South City

"A dollar for PAL today, may prevent a juvenile delinquent tomorrow," that's part of the reason for the fourth annual South San Francisco PAL fund drive through the month of October.

Contributions, which are tax deductible, also benefit numerous PAL activities At present the PAL sponsor a new Explorer Scout Troop, 16 boys; baseball teams, 200 boys; bowling teams, 90 boys and girls; soccer teams, 90 boys; rifle teams, 25 boys; and the Hunter Safety Program for boys and girls.

Insurance for these activities cost the PAL in excess of $800, according to President David Casey. The PAL only source of funds is through the interested citizens. "Without the financial support on interested citizens," President Casey stated, "It would be impossible for PAL to continue this vital community effort."

Members of the SSF Rod and Gun club cooperated with the PAL to provide facilities for the Hunter Safety Program. They also assist with instructions.

The South San Francisco Baseball Managers Association give generously of their time and knowledge. The SSF BMA, composed of men and of the community qualified to teach baseball, instruct young athletes and help boys to build character and learn good sportsmanship.

Pills Gone

A burglar in South San Francisco may need a doctor to prescribe which pills to take when.

Police said someone broke into the office of Dr. Manual Luna at 662 Grand Avenue sometime October 13.

Taken was an unknown quantity of birth control pills and an unknown quantity of pain pills. Also missing, according to police, was a syringe and needle.

Giant Leaps Topic For Girl Scouts

This evening at 7:30, in the Community Room of the Pacifica Library located in Sharp Park, Pacificans will have a rare chance to participate in a panel discussion sponsored by the Pacifica Association of Girl Scouts. The theme of the round table will be "Giant Leaps for Mankind." Guest panelists will be Miss Mary Ann Potts and James Trammell.

Miss Potts has dedicated over 20 years to girl scouting and her present title is Field Supervisor to the San Francisco Bay Girl Scout Council, with headquarters in Brisbane, California. She was a former teacher at the elementary and Jr. college level and spent six years of her girl scout duties in Europe with girl scout troops on foreign soil.

Trammell is currently a commissioner with the Park, Beach and Recreation Department for the city of Pacifica. He has held siminars on social responsibilities in the major western cities and has spent many years working with youth and their generation's interests.

Invitation to this discussion is extended to girl scout personnel and to all persons interested in the youth of tomorrow.

Miss Potts and Trammell anticipate that the audience will take an active part in this round table discussion.

$300 Gift For Beauty

The Pacific Heights Association of San Bruno has donated $300 to the city's beautification committee.

Otto J. Glausi, 361 Allen Drive, representing the association, told councilmen Tuesday night the money was for trees and shrubbery for the center divider on the road that leads to Skyline College.

$1,000 Theft In San Bruno

The Brentwood Lodge, 101 Brentwood Avenue, South San Francisco, is minus an estimated $1,000 following a burglary last week.

Policc said someone threw a rock through a window, broke locks off cabinet drawers and removed five coin boxes.

3 WAYS to BUY... MASTER CHARGE... BANKAMERICARD... LAY-AWAY PLAN!

CABLE CAR CHAPTER (San Francisco) members will host the annual Far Western District fall convention October 24-25. The chorus includes a number of North San Mateo County men. The director of the chorus is Walter (Buck) Williams, who is fourth from the right, front row, above.

Mineral, Gem Show In D.C. On Weekend

"Gifts From Mother Earth" is the theme for the Daly City Rockhound's Golden Gate Gem and Mineral Show, to be held October 25 and 26, at the War Memorial Community Center, 6655 Mission Street, Daly City.

In addition to the many fine exhibits by both club members and guests, there will be dealers form several Western states with a varied assortment of gems and minerals, both precious and semi-precious, in their native state and as finished pieces of jewelry.

There will also be demonstrations of carving, of cutting and polishing cabochons, and the most fascinating and best known art of the lapidary, faceting.

For those who are intrigued by the history of the earth, there will be books available covering the earth sciences, and location and identification of various rocks and minerals as well as more advanced information on other phases of the hobby.

BARBERSHOPPERS' CONCLAVE

A Huge Songfest Is Coming

Daly City and North San Mateo County men, members of the San Francisco (Cable Car) chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, will play host to the Far Western District annual fall convention to be held in San Francisco on October 24 and 25.

Thirteen choruses and more than 30 quartets, representing most of the five states in the district, will compete during the contest for the honor of representing the district at the International Convention and Contest in Atlantic City, N.J., next summer.

Daly City men who are members of the San Francisco chapter are: Christ Glascock, 66 Lake Meadow Drive; Ed Greenspun, 22 Westlawn Avenue; Ned Hardin, 166 Morningside Drive; Jake Mersinger, 225 Skyline Drive; Jerry Orloff, 166 Palisades Drive; Harry Rubinchik, 19 Westmont Drive; Bob Shields, 230 Southgate; Terry Sweeney, 17 Southdale Avenue; Bill Tieberg, 505 Palmcrest Drive, and Fred Waterman, 10 Edgemont Drive.

The chapter also has the following North San Mateo Countians as members: Saul Babich, 515 N. El Camino Real, San Mateo; Hank Bolk, 1076 Montgomery Avenue, San Bruno; Art Connelly, 718 W. Orange, South San Francisco; James T. Emonot, 823-87th Street, colma; Rich Hinkle, 320 Lowell Avenue, San Bruno; Wilfred Hoag, 684 Manor Drive, Pacifica; Bob Jernigan, 7 Moongate Court, Pacifica; Ken McElroy, 431-27th Avenue, San Mateo; Bill Peck, 115 Merced Drive, San Bruno; Peter Poland, 211 Monte Diablo Boulevard, San Mateo; Steve Schwartz, 1168 Manzanita Drive, Pacifica, and Jim Sherman, 412 Norfolk Drive, Pacifica.

The Jack Tar Hotel will be headquarters hotel for this month's Far West District Convention, and competitions will be held in the Nourse Auditorium.

The San Francisco (Cable) Car) chapter of the society is host chapter for the annual meeting.

The S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A. is a non-profit 35,000-member organization, established in 1938, for men who enjoy singing as a hobby. It now has almost 700 chapters throughout the U.S. and Canada, as well as close to 1000 registered quartets. It has a service project, the Institute of Logopedics in Wichita, Kan., which provides therapy to individuals with speech problems.

Choruses which compete at the contest contain between 40 and 80 members. Their finals competition will take place October 24 at 8 p.m. (single ticket price, $2.50). Quartet eliminations will be held at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. on October 25 (tickets, $1 each) and finals at 8 p.m. October 25 (tickets, $2.50 each).

An "Afterglow" (informal song-fest, with refreshments) will take place at 11:30 p.m. Oct. 25 (tickets, $1.50 each. All events except the Afterglow will be in Nourse Auditorium, and the Afterglow will be in the Jack Tar Hotel ballroom.

A person attending all events will pay a total of $8.50, but an "all-events" ticket book is available for $7.50, a saving of $1.00.

Tickts may be obtained from Wayne Mansfield, 120 San Pablo, San Francisco (make check out to SPEBSQSA).

It was in 1938, in Tulsa, Okla., a handful of men started the ball rolling among men who love to sing "the old songs," and the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America was born.

What's the fascination of singing songs "barbershop style"? What is barbershop harmoney, anyway? In simplest terms, it is harmony produced by four voices, unaccompanied.

IT'S A "DEVIL of a time" members of the Pacifica Family Service Agency are having . . . getting their Spook House at 106 San Jose Avenue ready for the October 26 opening. Trying to beat the deadline are Sally Borras as the devil, President Althea Moore and Secretary Pat Pringle.

Barbara Niehuser Is Wed

(Coleman Photo)

THE STEPHEN KLENKS (Barbara Niehuser)

After a wedding trip around the state, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Alan Klenk (Barbara Louise Niehuser) are at home in San Mateo. They were married at St. Robert's Catholic Church in San Bruno by the Rev. Richard Fry.

Barbara, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Niehuser of San Bruno, chose a fitted taffeta and peau de soie gown with lace appliques, seed pearls and beads. She carried lilies and orchids.

Jane O'Brien and Mrs. Richard Niehuser, her sister-in-law, gowned in a green crepe and lace gown, were the honor attendants for Barbara, and the bridesmaids, in gold crepe, were Mrs. Richard Reitzell and Mrs. John Wilson, cousins of the bride. They all carried old-fashioned white baskets with yellow daisies.

Stephen, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Klenk of Phoenix, asked Melvin Goudy to be his best man. Ushering duties fell to Michael McIver, Richard Niehuser, brother of the bride, and John Allen.

After the ceremony, the couple was honored at a luncheon at the Hyatt House Hotel in Burlingame.

The new matron was graduated from Capuchino High School and San Jose State College. She also is the sister of Donald, Mark, Paul and Robert Niehuser. Her husband attended Hillsdale High School and the University of Oregon.

GAME NIGHT

The Skyline Chapter of B'nai B'rith Women is presenting a game night at the Golden West YMCA in Stonestown November 1 at 8:30 to raise money for its philanthropies.

OUR LADY OF MERCY Festival Committee will hold its first social event of the season on Friday, October 24 at 9 p.m. in the parish hall. John Jurgens, Charles Boerio and Mrs. Philip Glebow, co-chairmen of the event, announce the evening has been entitled "Funny Faces" and will be a Halloween dance to welcome and get acquainted with new members of the parish. Reservations at $2.50 a person include dancing to Glen Kerr's orchestra, a midnight buffet and prizes for the "funniest faces."

YWCA 'Holiday Happening' Set

THE POST'S Family Forum

The North San Mateo County YWCA is planning a "Holiday Happening and Bazaar" for early November.

According to the chairman, Mrs. Milton Kinel, there will be "several ideas incorporated into the bazaar theme."

New and used goods will be on sale as well as many Christmas and Holiday objects which have been purchased especially for this event. Several forms of entertainment have also been planned to give the event variety.

Several of the YWCA instructors will give demonstrations during the bazaar hours. Kahz Zmuda on gymnastics, Nel Krawetz on bridge, Jerry Matlock on Hawaiian and variety dance and Patricia Johnson on cake decorating are among those scheduled. Variety shows are also in the planning stage.

Persons who have new or used articles in good condition who would like to donate to our sale? We would appreciate games, books, records, jewelry, toys, children's equipment, tools, sporting goods, household items, decorative and holiday items — no clothing or large furniture.

If you can help us with any of these items, call the office of the YWCA between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. weekdays for pickup. "We would also welcome donations by local artists and craftsmen," Mrs. Kinel said.

Proceeds from the "Holiday Happening and Bazaar" will help to further the community service done by the YWCA.

M.P. Brown's P-TA Carnival

The M. Pauline Brown P-TA is sponsoring their annual school carnival on Friday in the school's multi-use room, from 6 to 10 p.m.

Mrs. LeRoy Franzoia and Mrs. Vina Frank, co-chairman for the carnival, have announced that many game booths will be available.

The food concession will be handled by a committee headed by Mrs. William Peden.

A P-TA sponsored pumpkin sale is under way at the school, with Mrs. Thomas Pierce, ways and means chairman, in charge of the sale.

Social Ticket Sale To Start

Tickets for Holy Angels Social, sponsored by the Holy Angels Women's Guild, and the Men's Club of the parish, will go on sale after all the masses on October 26.

The social will be November 15, with cocktails from 8 to 9 p.m., dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. and a buffet at 10 p.m.

Heh, Heh—Something Go Wrong With Fruit Bars?

GOOD MORNING, GOOD COOKS.

I started off with good morning but what I really want to say is "Good grief." Why am I moaning? Because there was a mistake in the Deluxe Fruit Nut Squares recipe last week. Nothing makes for a blacker Wednesday for me than to pick up The Post, check the column with the original copy and find something wrong.

Remember, always read the method of mixing the recipe. I repeat the amounts in the method and if there is a difference, call Beverly at the paper, she can give you the correct amounts. Here is the corrected version of the recipe.

DELUXE FRUIT NUT BARS

Base:
- ½ cup butter
- 2 tablespoons powdered sugar
- 1 cup sifted flour

Cream the half cup butter and the two tablespoons powdered sugar. Gradually work in the cup of sifted flour. Spread into a buttered 9x13-inch pan. Bake in moderate oven, 350-degrees, for 5 minutes. Cool.

Topping:
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup brown sugar
- ¼ cup sifted flour
- ½ teaspoon baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 cup chopped walnuts
- 1 cup halved maraschino cherries
- ½ teaspoon vanilla

Beat the two eggs, add the cup of brown sugar and cream well. Sift together the one-fourth cup flour, one-half teaspoon baking powder and one-fourth teaspoon salt. Add to the creamed mixture and blend. Add the one cup each, chopped nuts and maraschino cherries and the half teaspoon vanilla. Spread over the cooked, cooled base and return to the 350-degree oven. Bake about 45 minutes, or until nicely browned. Cool.

Frosting:
(Make ½ the recipe)
- 8 tablespoons butter
- 12 tablespoons confectioners sugar
- 2 tablespoons milk or half and half
- 2 tablespoons boiling water
- ½ teaspoon vanilla

Beat the eight tablespoons butter and the twelve tablespoons powdered sugar thoroughly. Add the two tablespoons milk and keep beating. Add the two tablespoons boiling water slowly, beating all the time until stiff (takes about 5 minutes, steady beating). Flavor with the half teaspoon vanilla. Spread over the baked, cooled cookies. Cut into squares.

You will note that the recipe suggests that you make just half of the amount of frosting, this frosting is so rich and creamy (almost like whipped cream) and the cookies are so rich that half recipe is adequate.

IN MY CAREFUL perusal of The Post I note that our editor has announced, for one and all to read, that he is on a diet. Since there are three more of us in the office who are equally concerned about losing and-or keeping off pounds, it behooves your chubby food editor to print a recipe that doesn't contain 200 calories per bite.

A great aid to dieters is fish. It provides high quality protein and adds interesting flavor and variety to meals. This next recipe is a favorite of mine and quite easy to prepare.

BAKED FILLETS OF TURBOT
- 1½ pounds fillet of turbot
- a lemon, sliced thinly
- a mild onion, sliced thinly
- salt and coarse ground pepper
- 2 tablespoons sauterne wine

Cut the one-and-one-half pounds of fish into serving pieces. Place on a large piece of heavy foil. Arrange the slices of lemon and onion along the top of the fish. Sprinkle with salt and a generous amount of coarse pepper. Add the two tablespoons sauterne wine. Seal tightly. Place on baking sheet and bake in preheated 350-degree oven 20 to 25 minutes. Serves 4.

NOTE: If you aren't watching the calories, drizzle olive oil on the fish or add a bit of butter to each serving, before sealing and baking.

This fish is baked in the oven but by sealing the foil tightly it is really steamed so that it comes out moist and delicious.

THIS NEXT RECIPE isn't low in calories, but it is low in cost and that certainly gives it appeal. And tastes great. Also the fact that you can keep the makings of this casserole on your shelf, ready for that time when you can't get out of the house to shop, gives it an added appeal.

MACARONI AND CORNED BEEF
- 2½ cups macaroni
- 1 12-ounce can corned beef
- 2 tablespoons butter
- ¼ cup flour
- 2 cups milk
- 1 cup cheese, grated
- Buttered crumbs

Cook the two and one-half cups macaroni in boiling salted water. Drain. Break the corned beef into pieces. Butter a 2½-quart casserole and arrange alternate layers of macaroni and beef.

Melt the two tablespoons butter in a saucepan over low heat, add the one-fourth cup flour and stir until well blended, slowly add the two cups milk, stirring constantly to avoid lumps. Add the cup of grated cheese and continue stirring and cooking until melted. Pour over the macaroni and corned beef. Sprinkle with buttered crumbs and bake in 350-degree oven 20 minutes or until bubbly hot.

BUTTERED CRUMBS
- 2 Slices whole wheat bread or any type bread you prefer
- 4 Tablespoons butter

Leave the bread out during the day to dry out. Cut into small, very small pieces. Melt the four tablespoons butter in a skillet, add the bread crumbs and stir until well coated.

Youth 'Spell Off' By Knights

Marian Council No. 3773, Knights of Columbus held its first annual spelling bee contest.

One hundred and fifty parents, teachers and friends attended the "spell off," held at Holy Angels Parish Hall last Friday.

Each of the participating schools held contests in their respective schools and sent their three top spellers to the finals. Deputy Grand Knight Glenn Allen of Marian Council was the moderator for the evening. The judges were Father Peter Kelly, pastor of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Pacifica, and Chaplain of Marian Councill, Sister Veronica, principal of Our Lady of Mercy, Sister Helen, principal of Holy Angels, and Sister Margo of Our Lady of Perpetual Help, Sister Carol, principal of OLPH was unable to attend.

The winning school in the competition was Our Lady of Mercy with a perfect total of 24 points; second place went to OLPH, 14 points; third place went to HA, seven points. Our Lady of Mercy will have possession for one year of a 15-year perpetual trophy, which is awarded to the school amassing the most points.

The tie breaking word in the twenty-second round of the competition was souvenir. The winner of the individual awards was Jim Mulready, Our Lady of Mercy, who was awarded a $50 Savings Bond; second place went to Nancy Anderson, awarded a $25 Savings Bond; third to Bernadette Paolini, Our Lady of Mercy, a $25 Savings Bond.

Other participants in the spelling bee, not in order of finish were:

David Camous, Holy Angels; Ray Leahy, Holy Angels; Michael Moran, Holy Angels; Carey Candau, Our Lady of Perpetual Help; Chris Galliano, Our Lady of Perpetual Help; Debbie Cassinelli, Our Lady of Perpetual Help.

All participants were given a pen and pencil set for their efforts in helping to make this event in Marian Council's new youth program a success.

A Deadline

Don't hesitate another minute! Today is the deadline for the purchase of tickets to the Funny Faces Halloween Dance-Party being sponsored by the festival committee of Our Lady of Mercy Church.

The committee, a jointly organized group sponsored by the Westlake Catholic Women and the Men's Club of Our Lady of Mercy Parish, has named John Jurgens and Mrs. Philip Glebow to chair this dance, held to honor the new members of the parish and to provide a friendly social evening.

While, to really be in the spirit of the event, a costume is fun, it will not be necessary for everyone to come as a ghost, ghoul or pirate. According to Mrs. James Kelleher, publicity chairman, guests have the option of wearing funny faces or costumes. There will be prizes for the most original, the funniest and the best costumes and faces.

Glenn Kerr and his orchestra will provide the dance music, beginning at 9 p.m. in the parish hall. A midnight buffet will be served, amid appropriate decorations provided by Mrs. Howrd Poblitz. The tickets, costing $2.50 per person, are available by calling Mrs. Glebow, 756-0408 or Jurgens, 992-3302.

Members of the Our Lady Sodality will hold their thirteenth annual enrollment breakfast on November 2 following the 9 a.m. mass at Our Lady of Mercy Church.

Mrs. Eugene Bertorelli, sodality, spiritual director, is the enrollment event chairman.

According to Mrs. Kelleher, there will be no charge for the breakfast but everyone planning to attend is asked to call sodality chairman, Mrs. Joan Stack, 992-4255, so that the committee will know how many members and prospective members will be on had for the breakfast.

A fall social is being planned for the members of the Holy Angels 'Women's Guild and the Parish Men's Club, according to Mrs. Jon Lagomarsino, Guild publicity chairman.

Refreshments, a buffet supper and dancing in the parish hall, are being planned by Mrs. Joseph Dillon and Mrs. Les O'Callaghan, the co-chairman of the event.

Tickets, costing $3.75 per person, will go on sale following each mass on October 26. Anyone wishing more information is asked to contact Mrs. O'Callaghan, 756-9426.

The ladies of the parish are urged not to forget the Ladies' League luncheon on the agenda for October 29. Call Mrs. Stanley Kettell, 755-0449, or Mrs. Raymond Nightingale, 755,1725, for more information.

The Two Hundredth anniversary of the founding of the California missions will be commemorated on November 15 when the member of the Mercy Guild present their Mercy Mission Belles luncheon and fashion show, in Barrett Hall of Mercy Haigh School, beginning at noon.

Decor of the day and table settings will be in keeping with the California missions, and mission replicas will be everywhere throughout the dining room. Raymond Rinaldi, decorations chairman, has done an outstanding job of reproducing and displaying old California missions in Barrett Hall.

Reservations at $4 per person may be obtained from Mrs. John Cronin, 731-5578, or Mrs. John Scudder, 566-5373.

Because there is limited amount of space in Barret Hall, tables seating either eight or ten persons, will be available. Ladies wishing to attend are asked to call early for reservations.

In keeping with the mission theme, a special presentation will be made during the afternoon. According to Mrs. Albert Bucci, publicity chairman, an oil painting of Mission Dolores will be awarded to one of the guests.

All members and friends of Mercy Guild are invited to spend this special day at Mercy High School in San Francisco. Everything has been done to provide an enjoyable afternoon for all the luncheon guests.

The proceeds from the annual event will provide educational aids for the students of Mercy High School.

Mrs. Doris Fox, publicity chairman for the St. Martin's Episcopal Church Christmas Bazaar, urges everyone in the community to make note of the fact that Saturday and Sunday, November 22 and 23, will be the days for bargain shopping at Santa's Boutique, to be located in the downstairs rooms of St. Martin Episcopal Church.

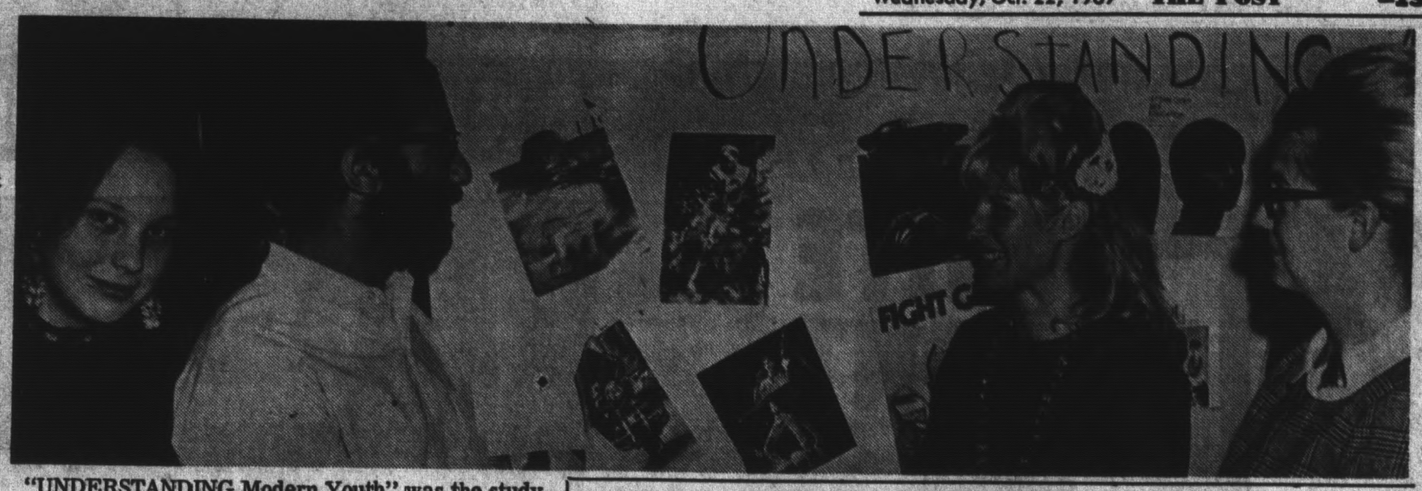
FDR Father, Son Night On Friday

The Franklin D. Roosevelt P-TA will host their second Father and Son night in the schools multi use room at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

The program will begin with the Flag Ceremony being presented by the Nighthawks, Y Indian Guides group. Members participating will be Ricky Freund, Jeffrey Freund, Mark Roberson and Gregory Campion.

Some members of the Serramonte High School football team will demonstrate to the fathers and sons proper methods of punting, passing and football playing in general.

Last year, over 200 fathers and sons participated.



"UNDERSTANDING Modern Youth" was the study topic for the recent Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Seacliff and Wesley United Methodist Church in Daly City where San Mateo's Damien House was represented. Avalon P-TA Sets Meeting

President, Mrs. John Hare announced an Avalon P-TA meeting and orientation October 23, at 7:30 p.m. in the multi-purpose room.

Principal Fred Forester will open kindergarten classes to visitors at 6:45 p.m. Following the short business meeting, grades first through sixth will open to visiting.

Avalon P-TA officers are president, Mrs. John Hare; vice president, Mrs. Raymond Angeli; honorary vice president, Fred Forrester; recording secretary, Mrs. Paul Cocoles; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Richard Battaglia; treasurer, Mrs. Chet Pietruszewski; historian, Mrs. George Siroratka; parliamentarian, Mrs. Edward Miramontes.

Chairmen include: traditional Founder's Day, Mrs. William Dose; library, Mrs. Richard Villatore; ways and means, Mrs. Margaret Graber, whose committee is planning a "fashion show and boutique" and "Disney's Carnival."

Leglslative, Mrs. Leonard Stevenson; magazine, Mrs. Fred Wilson; room representative, Mrs. Alvin Winschell; inside publicity, Mrs. Diano Bernardini; ice cream sales, Mrs. George Plante; block parent program, Mrs. Richard Battaglia.

Membership chairman, Mrs. Diano Bernardini, reported a member drive under way, with a trophy to be presented at the next general meeting.

Program chairman, Mrs. Raymond Angeli, has scheduled programs on "holiday decor" and on "drugs."

Yule Bazaar Preparations Being Made

"Santa's Boutique" is the catchy name for the annual Christmas Bazaar sponsored by the St. Marin's Episcopal Church, 777 Southgate Avenue, Daly City. Set for Saturday, November 2 and Scnday, November 23 from 10 to 5, the Boutique will feature many unusual and decorative items especially designed for the holiday season.

Small specialty shops will be set up in the downstairs rooms of the church where visitors may select their purchases from a wide selection.

The Needlework Shop, under the direction of Mrs. Richard Dominguez, will display many beautiful hand-made articles, while across the hall will be the White Elephant sale items, always a bargain afvorite, and chaired by Mrs. Charles McCaffery and Mrs. Allan Mori.

Mrs. Allyn Sliter has a wide array of gifts in her shop and Mrs. Bonnie Johnston will handle the Xmas Decor which promises to be highly creative this year.

The Altar Guild is stocking Santa's Pantry with homemade cakes, cookies, candies, and other goodies and the EYC, the high school set, will handle the children's games.

Miss Kay Hoover and Miss Betty Casey are again in charge of the popular refreshment stand featuring hot dogs, coffee, cold drinks and tasty salads.

WHEN WHITE FRONT ADVERTISES WITHOUT PRICES THERE MUST BE A REASON! . . . A GOOD REASON!

HERE IT IS! THIS WEEK ONLY!

When White Front slashes prices on certain items that are also sold by other dealers, we often create a new pricing structure throughout the area, with reverberations all the way back to the factory. The White Front advertised price may even become the standard price thereafter! So for just this week, we are reducing prices, but not advertising them. White Front's reputation stands behind these price cuts. WE GUARANTEE THAT THE SAVINGS WILL MAKE YOUR VISIT TO WHITE FRONT WORTH WHILE!

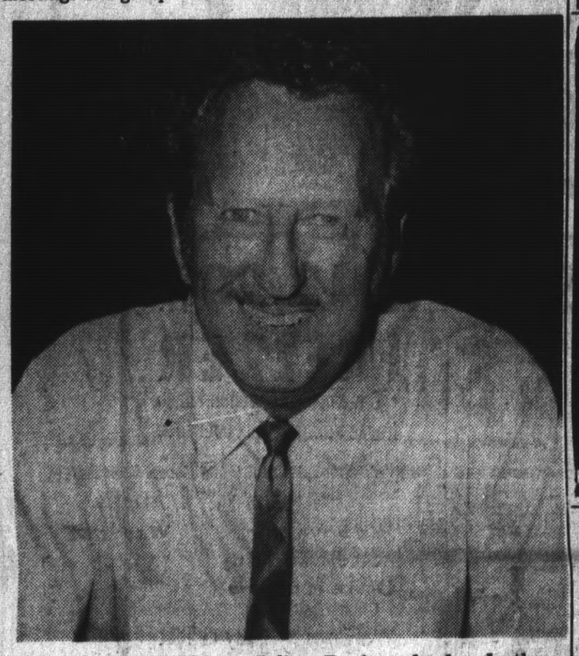
Pacifica Papagayo Room Plans Nov. 1 Opening

The long-awaited opening of the Pacifica Papagayo Room is drawing to a climax, with the finishing touches being added to the colorful Mexican patio setting. Nick Gust, owner of The Moonraker, Nick's Seashore restaurant and the Papagayo Room, stated that the grand opening is planned for Saturday, November 1. Popular Al Williams will host Mayor Gust's new restaurant venture . . . Chef Hans Roth, who prepared dishes for the three moon-walk astronauts during their three weeks of isolation, dined at Sil Oliva's Exposition Fish Grotto. The famed Chef went for Sil's special Rex Sole in a big way . . . Joe and Lou Ercoli hosted a party from Rector Cadillac of Burlingame at their Leaning Tower restaurant last weekend. The group of 37 enjoyed dinner after attending the 49er-Ram game . . . The Hong Kong restaurant is celebrating its second anniversary in Belmont with a special Chinese dinner for only $1. The offer is extended through October and November . . . Lew Lehr's Steak House in San Francisco was the scene for a dinner-meeting for the staff of Goodin Realty Co., headed by Robert Goodin, in the private dining room especially created for meetings and group dinners.

Nick Gust



MEET THE BOSS — Julian Basin, who heads the new Safari restaurant in San Carlos, says his dining "oasis" is the answer to sandwich requests. And the chili — it's the very end! Friendly atmosphere, delightful decor and lusty portions well rate your luncheon, dinner or late-snack visit.

This is a complete hotel, say the Greenbachs of their Villa Hotel in San Mateo. Commercial to the business man, resort-like to the Bay Meadows sportsman or the Marine World family tourist, a convention hotel of superb and most timely facility, plus utility, all encompassing the chic, new "Lounge at the Villa Hotel, the intimate, informal "Upper Level Just for Steaks," the 24-hour courtesy limousine service with direct courtesy phones between the hotel, the Airport and its limousine "fleet," and dancing every night except Sunday and Monday . . . Diners at The Franciscan restaurant, located at Fisherman's Wharf, have been ogling the 138-foot three-masted schooner that is currently docked at Pier 43½, right next to the famed restaurant. This Canadian-built ship, which cost $500,000 to build, carries a crew that originally constructed the vessel . . . Don't make the mistake of visiting the Fuji Sukiyaki on Tuesday or Wednesday — these two days come under the heading of "days off." Wonderful Japanese food is served Thursday through Monday . . . Phyllis Aprille, host-owner of Augie's on Third Avenue, says Chef Tony is on the sick list (he underwent surgery at Mills Hospital). A quick recovery wish from Bright Lights.

J. Greenbach

Master chef Wilfried Blarer, host-owner of Burlingame's Matterhorn restaurant, proudly displays a citation and commendation received for preparing a luncheon given in honor of Princess Margaret's visit to the United States. This is just one example of how Chef Blarer's gourmet Swiss cuisine is pleasing royalty and heads of state. Next time you dine at The Matterhorn, sign the guest book. Thumb through the pages and note the names of guests from all over the continent who have dined here . . . Bruno Fava, an artist in the preparation of exquisite Italian dishes, out-does himself on his Medallions of Beef a la Bruno. This is one you'll recommend to your friends. Bruno will even help you arrange dinner parties and banquets — with a special price for groups of 10 or more . . . If you'd like to learn traditional and modern Greek dancing, visit the Balkan Village in Los Altos on Wednesday evenings. Louis Gundunas, "Mr. Broadway," teaches the ancient Warrior Dances as well as contemporary "Zorba" steps without charge during the fun sessions. . . .

Wilfried Blarer

"Hold onto your Confederate money, men, the South will rise again!" humorously commented Nick Sbarra, co-owner of the popular New Southern restaurant, along with Reno and Julio Donati. Seems Bartender George Frugoli, a Yankee, is out-numbered by the "Rebs" (all the waiters are from the south, as well as the two new bartenders). George's only salvation is that he's from "South" San Francisco . . . If you think Laura Leong is a good looking gal (she's the hostess at the new Kuo Wah restaurant on Forty-Second Avenue), wait 'til you see the picture of her daughter, Valerie, who appears in the "Back-to-school" catalog for Rhodes Department Store. Buffet lunches at Kuo Wah are just as good as, if not better than, those served at their San Francisco restaurant Dinners are table-service. Favorites are Yee Chee Tong (Shark-fin Soup) and Hung Yun Gai Ding (Almond Chicken) . . .Those lunching or dining at Tommy's Joynt for the first time are often amazed at the many oddities on the ceilings and walls. Tommy Harris has over 2,000 different things adorning his Joynt.

Peach Wellington Is Delight At Phil Lehr's

The elegant Wellington Room of Phil Lehr's Steakery in San Francisco was the setting for a dinner-meeting of the major Northern California theater owners hosted by 20th Century Fox Film Corporation. Peach Wellington, a gourmet delight created by Phil Lehr to honor Dean Martin's beautiful, talented actress daughter, Claudia, was acclaimed "the greatest invention since the peach" by the delighted diners . . . Among the eleven Stickney's employees to receive a beautiful watch for 10 years of service, at a recent cocktail and dinner party at the Shirt Tail restaurant in Palo Alto, were the two employees with the longest service for men and women: Jose Ramirez, who began work in 1952, and Myrtle Tucker, whose service started in 1954. Adrian Stickney, always considered a fair and friendly boss, is the Peninsula's largest restaurant employer with over 350 . . . Charming Susie Gilner is bringing a host of new faces to the lounge of Fred and Jerry Rapp's Holiday Inn in South San Francisco with her extensive "88" repertoire . . . Margie Brandon, who performs at Baron's Lounge in San Francisco, designs and sews all of her own gowns. She has purchased her material from various parts of the world, including Hong Kong, Singapore, India and Ceylon.

You'll be treating yourself to something different if you order a charcoal broiled Buffalo Burger at Leo Martay's Hal's Whistle Stop in Belmont . . . It's cuisine of your choice from any of several International Kitchens for only $1 during Farmers Market's Sunday Dollar Dinner Day . . . There's a new trio of musicians appearing at the Hi-Fi Room South during the Wednesday through Sunday dance sessions — The Cross Roads, who also play for the Wednesday Dance Contest. If you think you have talent, why not compete with other dancing couples. Prize for the winning lady is a wig, cash for the man, and a bottle of champagne for the runner-up couple . . . Italian entrees to eat in or take out is a Woodlake Joe's specialty. An excellent idea for entertaining this weekend . . . Any day of the week is a good time to make the scene at Cap'ns Cabin for good brew and happy conflabs . . . John Darrimon is a master when preparing the exquisite cuisine at DarDanys in Menlo Park. When it comes to selecting connoisseur wines, the other half of an experienced team is Peter Podany . . . A special steak dinner is a Monday feature at the Sizzler Steak House in Farmers Market — and priced at only $1.39.

The Belmont Prime Rib's new gourmet dinner menu is a solid success with long time patrons as well as new dinner guests. Energetic Manager Al Malatesta is receiving compliments on the "Old San Francisco" style Veal Scaloppine, made with fresh mushrooms and sauteed in a savory wine sauce. Also worth a special mention is the new cart service for salads, cannelloni and other gourmet specialties . . . Bowling may be the name of the game at Millbrae's Kings Bowl, but excellent dining, robust cocktails and the Fabulous Romano Combo have made the adjoining Blue Peacock one of the favorite dining spots for the sports conscious. So you might say, "the name of the game is a great night out." . . . Frank and Fanny Torres have enjoyed one of their finest years at Torres restaurant in Montara. What with the excellent smelt run and the illumination of the surf at night from their new lighting system, diners have been flocking in from all over the Bay Area . . . Comic Woody Allen, star and director of the movie hit, "Take The Money And Run," dined at Doros while here for his movie's opening, along with its producer, Charles Joffe.

Chuck Herschler, one of Bright Lights' "restaurant regulars" (when not dining out he makes his headquarters at Van Ness Oldsmobile, 1700 Van Ness Avenue, San Francisco), penned a note thanking this office for suggesting A. Sabella's on Fisherman's Wharf. For your information, Chuck, Lucien Sabella's restaurant has been a Bright Lights' special for the past ten years . . . Hear ye, see ye: Foster's Special Breakfast, now being served for just 99 cents, includes bacon and one egg, three buttermilk pancakes, syrup, butter and a cup of coffee. It's an appetite dandy made to order for the pocketbook! Also note the $1.25 Special Dinner for Senior Citizens. Each day (Monday through Friday) features a different entree . . . Weekend specials: Luncheon or dinner as served at the Lamp Post Steak House in San Mateo. The newest addition to the menu is the noonday Steak Sandwich . . . Early-evening and late-night cocktails, plus unusual hors d'oeuvres, at Bodee Cominoli's Pioneer Hotel Saloon in Woodside . . . Prime rib as only Scotty Campbell's in Redwood City serves it. Regular cut or English cut . . . Italian food and seafood dishes are feature attractions at Vince's restaurant, but the hamburgers served on French bread are a much-requested item during the luncheon hours.

CONTEST RULES

1. Select the winner of each game by placing an "X" in the box on the margin side of the team you think will win. If you predict that the game will end in a tie, place an "X" only in the column headed "Ties" between the two teams. If the game ends in a tie, credit will only be given to contestants who predict the tie.
2. Write the total net yards (rushing and passing) that you think the designated team will make in the box provided. (This estimate will only be used in case of ties between two contestants.
3. Clip and mail the entry blank to:

FOOTBALL CONTEST
San Mateo Times
P. O. Box 5400
San Mateo, Calif. 94402

4. Entries must be postmarked prior to midnight Thursday of this week or delivered to The Times prior to midnight Thursday of this week. The Times is not responsible for entries lost, delayed or destroyed or which fail to reach The Times by 9:30 a.m. on Saturday.
5. To receive the cash prize, the winner must pick all 15 games correctly. If the entry does not pick all games right, then the winner will receive 2 tickets to the Big Game, California vs. Stanford on November 22. The previous week's contest cash prize will be added to the next week's contest if it is not distributed to a winner. In case ties cannot be broken between contestants by means of the tie-breaker, the prize will be divided equally. (This includes ties between contestants who pick 15 winners.)
6. A bonus of $50 will be given to each cash prize winner (not Big Game ticket winners) who is a home-delivered subscriber to The San Mateo Times or indicates immediate delivery of The Times is wanted. To qualify for this bonus, either of the boxes at the bottom of the entry blank must be checked. In the event two or more subscribers divide the contest cash prize, the bonus prize will be divided in the same manner.
7. Cash prizes will be payable only to the contestant identified on the entry blank. Winning contestants will be required to show identification.
8. Number of entries from one household is limited to three (3) including only one (1) facsimile of the official entry blank permitted per household. Submission of more than three entries or one facsimile will render all facsimiles submitted by that contestant void.
9. Entries may be attached to a postcard, mailed in an envelope or delivered by hand to the San Mateo or Daly City office of The Times. Contestants submitting more than one entry must submit each entry separately.
10. Anyone may enter the contest except employees of The Times or immediate members of their families.
11. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decisions. All entries become the property of The Times, no answers may be returned. The Times reserves the right to correct any typographical errors in the entry blank which affect the outcome of the contest. Answers to the contest or winners' name will NOT be given out over the phone. Winners will be notified by The Times.

DEATHS

ANTHONY P. NAVARRO

Anthony Phillip Navarro, 46, of 74 Lakewood Drive, Daly City, apparently took his life by hanging Thursday morning after leaving with his wife for work, the coroner's office reported.

Navarro's wife Claire, reported to Coroner's Investigator Joseph Keegan she and her husband both left their home around 7:30 a.m. for work. She said she thought he had gone to his job at the Western Freight Association on Sixth Street in San Francisco, but later her husband's employer called her to report Navarro had not reported for work.

Mrs. Navarro called her husband's sister-in-law, Catherine Navarro, who lives nearby at 9 Creston, Daly City. Mrs. Navarro, the sister-in-law, went to the house and found Navarro's car in the driveway.

The sister-in-law called Mrs. Navarro, and both women went into the house, Keegan reported. He said they found that Navarro had tied a wire cable around a pipe in the garage and had stepped off a small stepladder.

Mrs. Navarro reported her husband had been depressed.

Navarro is survived by his wife; his mother, Cecelia; a stepston, Raymond Gonzales; two brothers, Henry and Louis Navarro, and a sister, Mary Frances Termini. He was a member of Gaugialupe Parlor, N.S.C.W.

Funeral services were conducted from Duggan's Serra Morturary in Daly City Friday at 8:30 a.m. Rosary will be recited tomorrow at 8 p.m

CHARLES MEYERS

Rosary was scheduled for 8 o'clock tonight at Duggan's Serra Morturary, Daly City, for Charles F. Meyers, 76, father of former Assemblyman Charles Meyers.

Funeral services were conducted at 10 a.m. Tuesday at St. Stephens Church, San Francisco, where a requiem mass was offered for Meyers, who died Thurday in San Francisco. 'interment was in holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

A native of San Francisco, he was past president of the Automotive Maintenance and Garage Association of San Francisco, past president and member of South of Market Boys, member of the Executive Association of San Francisco, Fraternal Order of the Eagles, Area 5, Division 4, AOH, Pacific Parlor NSCW, Grandeurs Association of San Francisco and the Holy Name Society of St. Stephens Parish.

Survivors in addition to Assemblyman Meyers, include wife, Lucy, brothers William and Frank, and sister, Mrs. Grace Mooney.

EARL E. PITOIS

Earl E. Pitois, 61, of South San Francisco, died October 17 after a sudden illness.

A native Californian, he lived in South San Francisco for 15 years at 114 Cherry Avenue.

He was a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Railroad Engineers.

Survivors include two sons, Robert and James, and a sister, Evelyn Oeren.

A requiem mass was recited at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday at All Souls' Catholic Church. Interment followed in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

Memorial contributions to the Heart Fund are preferred.

EARLE PORTER VENZKE

Graveside funeral services were held Wednesday at Cypress Lawn Memorial Park for Earle Porter Venzke, a 51-year-old resident of 207 Milagra Drive, Pacifica, who died October 12 in San Mateo.

The W.C. Laswell Mortuary, Daly City, was in charge of arrangements.

Survivors include his wife, Virginia and two daughters, Danae Venzke and Mrs. Robin Giannoni, of San Francisco.

Venzke played pro football as a tight end with the Green Bay Packers for four years after graduating form Denver University. He was a B-25 bomber pilot in World War II and was wounded in action. He received the Purple Heart and other decorations.

ARTHUR HAGUE

Arthur Hague, 400 Hazelwood Drive, South San Francisco, credit manager for Eloesser Heynemann Co., dies October 14 at Mary's Help Hospital after a brief illness. He had lived in this county for four years and was a native of St. Paul, Minn. He was a member of the Mount Davidson Masonic Lodge 481 F.&A.M., of San Francisco. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Grace Hague of South San Francisco; two daughters, Mrs. Marlene Marcotte of Millbrae and Mrs. Lois Calderwood of San Francisco; a brother Carl Hague of San Francisco and two sisters; Mrs. Solveig Strand of Walnut Creek and Mrs. Vivian Sandige of San Mateo. Funeral services were held Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Sneider and Sullivan Funeral Home, San Mateo, with interment at Cypress Lawn Memorial Park, Colma.

HENRY A. HAAKER

Private funeral services were conducted Monday for insurance agent Henry A. Haaker, 80, who died Friday in Daly City. Inurnment was in Cypress Lawn Memorial Park, Colma.

A native of Woodside, he lived in South San Francisco for 60 years, residing at 718 Grand Avenue.

Survivors include his wife, Helena; a son, Lee, and three grandchildren.

Contributions to Ducks Unlimited, 525 Market Street, San Francisco, are preferred.

Jefferson To Screen Teachers From SFS To Avoid 'Kooks'

The Jefferson Elementary School District plans to better screen its student teachers from San Francisco State College, to avoid getting "kooks" and other undesirable types that might lead to disruptions.

Dr. Vinton Stratton, an associate district superintendent, reported that a conference with three members of the San Francisco State College student teachers' program staff recently proved "very good" and "productive."

Dr. Stratton explained that for the first time there will be local screening of all student teacher candidates, a move urged by trustees, particularly Ed Tomasello, in the past.

Usually, the administrator pointed out, the student teacher's first contact with his master teacher and the school principal is on the very day the SFS student is to report for classroom assignment.

Under the new arrangement, principals of the schools and the master teachers to whose classrooms the students will be assigned will receive biographical material and will have an opportunity to screen the candidates, Stratton declared, prior to assignment.

Should the principal or master teacher find a "problem," he would relay his concern to district personnel officers and a second screening at district level would follow, Dr. Stratton said.

Presumably, the new screening policy would be used next semester, inasmuch as some twelve student teachers already are in Jefferson District classrooms.

The college officials, Stratton said, "were amenable to doing what we ask," adding that only on "infrequent occasions" has the district had cases of poor student teacher performance.

The problem, he advanced, had nothing to do with what actually existed at the elementary level, but more with an incident in one of the high schools last year.

"The whole thing springs from the incident that Jefferson High School had last year," Dr. Stratton explained Wednesday.

"It was sort of coincidental the way the timing came out," he said. "I took the usual master teacher contract between our district and San Francisco State for the training of student teachers . . . to the board in a routine fashion, and at that time Mr. Tomasello, in particular, raised the question of how we go about screening these student teachers before they were placed in our classrooms."

Stratton added, "Coincidentally, just the week before one of the local papers (Times and Post) had run a story about the responsibility of a student teacher for this little uproar they had at Jefferson High School. (This involved colleges, assertedly "in bad taste," prepared in a class under a student teacher's guidance editor)."

The question was raised by Tomasello because the incident "was recent in some of the board members' minds," Stratton recalled.

The Board of Trustees, Dr. Stratton added, had "nothing negative to say about San Francisco State—this wasn't involved at all; they just felt it would be advisable to strengthen our local screening procedures."

Tomasello also was concerned about "the possibility of violence," Dr. Stratton pointel out.

Tuesday, Tomasello was firm in his assertion, "I hope these teachers are notified as to what is expected of them here."

DC Officer Shows Agility, Eludes Bat

Daly City Patrolman Robert Blazer early on Saturday showed the agility of those recent World Series players. Only he must have felt like the ball, surely not in possession of the bat.

That was in another person's hands, and Daly City police booked Charles Chauvin, 22, of 111 Vella Vista, Vallejo, on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. He has been released on $1,250 bail.

According to police reports, Blazer, who travels to and from work on a bicycle, was headed home at approximately 12:51 a.m., today.

As he was peddling along Ninetieth Street and Washington, a car went speeding by. Officer Blazer hollered at the passing vehicle which then came to a screeching halt.

Police said the driver of the vehicle jumped out of the car and began to swing a baseball bat at Blazer. The officer dodged the blows several times by rolling on the ground: He finally was able to draw his service revolver and hold his assailant at bay, police said.

Trailer Burns At Pacifica

Two Pacifica fire engines and six firemen responded to a call at 9:59 Sunday evening in Pacifica of a burning trailer.

Firemen said that the 10 by 50-foot trailer was "practically totalled" by the time they got to the lot east of 29 Montecito where the trailer was kept. No injuries were reported.

The trailer was owned by Maurice Cutler, of 29 Montecito, Pacifica. The cause of the blaze has not been determined.

Where Jeff Elementary Funds Go

The Jefferson Elementary School District in Daly City spends but 2½ per cent of its budget for administrative costs, Supt. Frank Greenwood pointed out to his board of trustees Oct. 14. Seventy-nine per cent of the district's money goes into the instructional program, and "this is where we think the money actually should be spent," Greenwood said.

"There is only one district with lower costs administratively, only Menlo Park," Greenwood explained.

Greenwood also noted that the average cost of educating a child in the Jefferson district is $100, less than the county average, while the tax rate is "one of the highest."

Funds spent for health services are "a little above" the county average, said Greenwood, who was reading from a recent county report.

Maintenance costs are about average in relation to the county average, the superintendent said.

"This district is the largest recipient of special education appropriations in San Mateo County, with the exception of Burlingame," Greenwood said.

In other business, the trustees:

Okayed a request for child care leave for Mrs. Carol Yokoi, currently on maternity leave. Mrs. Yokoi prematurely had twins, a boy and a girl.

Accepted resignations from Mrs. Litsa Preovolos, currently on maternity leave; Mrs. Elinore Whitney, whose husband has been transferred to Sacramento; and Miss Adrienne Stavis, who is getting married. Also accepted resignations from cafeteria helpers Mrs. Jeannie Bracisco and Mrs. Loretta DeAntoni.

Nominated Albert Semenaro, commissioner for the personnel commission of the district for reappointment to a three year term, beginning December 1, and established November 11 as the date for a public hearing on the appointment.

Authorized a 30 day leave of absence for personnel reasons for Al Podesta, a night custodian at Abraham Lincoln School.

Supported a resolution from the Marin County Board of Supervisors regarding the acquisition of the Point Reyes National Seashore.

Held over discussion on the district's longevity policy.

Adjourned to an executive session for purpose of instructing the superintendent how to proceed on future negotiations with the Negotiating Council for the current year's budget.

In other business, the board:

Accepted a gift of $50 from the Vista Mar P-TA toward the purchase of supplementary reading aids. The aids consist of vacabulary cards, study and reference charts and picture cards for the Vista Mar School.

Approved purchase orders totalling $32,356.65, and paid warrants of $41,362.04.

Authorized a new school dental accident insurance program designed to provide immediate dental care in case of an accident. The voluntary plan, presented by the California Dental Service, is for 24 hour coverage. It costs $3 per pupil for 12 months and pays the usual dentist fee, plus up to $250 hospitalization per accident.

By comparison, the student accident insurance plan now in effect with North American Life and Casualty pays 100 per cent for accidental damage to natural teeth only. This coverage is "to and from home to school" at $2.50, or 24 hour coverage at $12 per pupil.

D.C. Firemen Battle Fire

Daly City firemen kept a house fire from spreading Wednesday, knocking down flames before they could break through a wall to an adjoining residence.

Firemen said the fire at 444 Bellevue started shortly before 7:30 p.m., of undetermined cause, in a bedroom built inside the garage area.

The house was unoccupied and unfurnished, firemen said, and is owned by a San Mateo man, James Garmon.

A lower bedroom, walls and roof were damaged, as fire spread up the wall, through a second-floor bathroom, and up into a small attic space, a fire department spokesman said.

The wall between the Garmon structure and the neighboring home was charred.

New Policy On Criticism At Jefferson

By WILL E. THOMAS

A new policy, entitled, "Procedures for Processing Constructive Criticisms and Complaints," was approved by trustee of the Jefferson Elementary School District last week.

Avowing that "constructive criticism of the schools is welcome," the new procedures policy explains in general terms that the "normal procedure for handling complaints" would be to start with the "source of the complaint (teacher, administrator)."

However, the policy spells out the complainant's "right to seek solution through the higher echelons of authority" should satisfaction not be considered forthcoming from the lower levels.

This particular feature of the policy is the main change from a proposed policy presented a few months ago.

Considerable discussion had been generated and the result of committee work now carries the assertion, "It is understood that any parent who wishes to do so may take his problem directly to the superintendent if this seems appropriate to him."

A teacher's unit at one time in the past had advocated a definit chain of command — a guideline — that began with the teacher. It would have precluded, by its wording, any parent, or other complainant, from going directly to the superintendent unless all others in the chain had been contacted.

The Board of Trustees subsequently rejected the policy at that time — July 22, although one educator had urged its passage so that a teacher could "face his accuser in the traditional American fashion."

Trustee Ed Tomasello noted, on the other hand, that the revision requested by the teachers' group would have had the effect of "sending the complaining person back to the person who antagonized him in the first place."

Vote for the new policy yesterday was unanimous — although Trustees Bill Schumacher and Dorothy Adams voted against rejection of the previous proposal.

Constructive criticism and complaints "should be communicated through appropriate channels to the superintendent in order to keep him informed of potential problems and developments that may affect the education of children in Jefferson Elementary Schools," the policy states.

It declares that the last appeal is with the board, and it further spells out "The board recognizes that the proper channel of communication is through the superintendent as chief executive officer" and that a complaint or criticism by a "patron shall be presented as a written, signed statement to the superintendent or the individual shall be invited to appear before the board and the matter made a part of the agenda."

Chamber To Meet Oct. 22

South San Francisco Chamber of commerce will hold its first evening meeting of the fall season October 22 in the Gold Room of the Royal Inns Hotel, 275 South Airport Boulevard, South San Francisco.

The 7 p.m. meeting will feature guest speaker DeWayne Moore, vice president, treasurer and director of the Guy F. Atkinson Company.

Moore will discuss the company he has been with for the past 27 years and its worldwide contracting projects.

In addition, the group will honor Ed Kauffmann with a certificate and medallion from the State Commission on Aging on being the "oldest active member" of the South San Francisco Chamber. He is a charter member of the organization.

Councilman Wants Meet

San Bruno Councilman George Corey would like to "open some communications" with the San Bruno Park School District trustees.

Corey informed his fellow councilmen he intends to work toward a meeting in the near future for this purpose.

"The school board feels we've been rude and unfair," said Corey in referring to the recent falling out the city and school board had concerning after-school recreation.

Let Children Pack The Lunches

"Mom . . . this lunch you packed turns me off!" . . . sound familiar, mom? If your school aged kids complain about the "same old thing" in their carried lunches, it's time you turned the lunch packing duties over to them.

Here's how to help them get organized to begin packing "groovy" and nutritious lunches they'll enjoy . . . saving you that extra time each day for other homemaking activities.

Lunch Packing Center

Designate a special lunch packing center in your kitchen. Select a section of counter near the refrigerator or freezer. Be sure a cutting board and drawer are handy, too. Fill the drawer with lunch box necessities like: napkins, plastic utensils, paper bags, plastic beverage or soup containers, a jar of "milk money" change, and Handi-Wrap® for sandwich and food wrapping.

Assign a shelf in your refrigerator for lunch food supplies like butter, spreads, cold cuts, cheeses and fruits.

Each child can prepare and refrigerate his lunch the evening before each school day or make an entire week's supply of lunches on the weekend and freeze the sandwiches. Wrapped frozen sandwiches can be taken from the freezer each morning and placed in the lunch bag to thaw by noon. Pre-frozen or chilled foods will be fresher and tastier.

Storing Hints

Sandwiches should be stored not longer than two weeks at 0°F. or below in a home freezer or one week at 10°F. in the freezer compartment of a refrigerator. Thaw them at room temperature while still in their wrappings to assure freshness.

All kinds of fresh breads freeze satisfactorily, but not all fillings do. Mayonnaise and salad dressings tend to separate when frozen and are not recommended because of this.

Garnishes and foods that cannot be frozen like tomato slices, lettuce or juicy pickles, can be wrapped and refrigerated separately and slipped into the lunch bag that morning.

Once your teenagers or even the younger ones get the knack of daily or once-a-week assembly line lunch packing, you'll be happier and they'll eat heartier every school day!

Dutch Chocolate Cake In 3 Layers

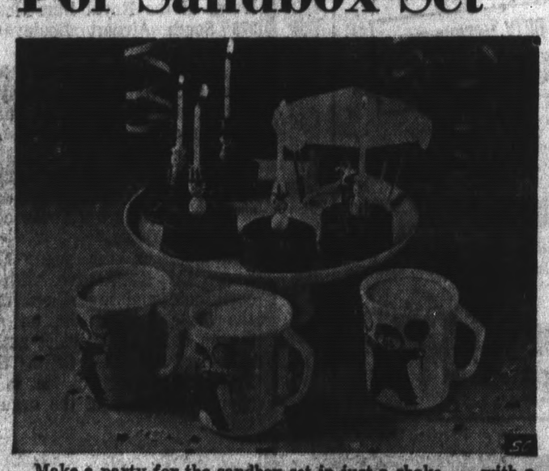
A great treat: a fluffy Dutch chocolate cake from the Borden Kitchen. Complement with cups of a new low-acid instant coffee creamed with Cremora.

Dutch Chocolate Cake
(Makes three 8-inch layers)

- 3/4 cup (1-1/2 sticks) margarine, softened
- 1-1/2 cups sugar
- 3 eggs
- 3 cups sifted cake flour
- 4-1/2 teaspoons baking powder
- 3/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup homogenized milk
- 2 teaspoons vanilla extract
- 1 cup Borden Instant Dutch Chocolate Flavored Mix, dry form
- 1/4 cup homogenized milk

In a large-size bowl beat margarine until fluffy. Gradually add sugar; beat until fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Sift together cake flour, baking powder and salt. Add dry ingredients alternately with the 1 cup of milk, beginning and ending with dry ingredients. Add vanilla. Dissolve chocolate mix in remaining 1/4 cup milk. Blend thoroughly into cake batter. Line three 8-inch layer cake pans with a double thickness of waxed paper; pour in batter. Bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven about 30-35 minutes. Remove from pans; gently peel off paper. Cool thoroughly before icing.

Shake-Up Treat For Sandbox Set



Make a party for the sandbox set in just a shake . . . with a frosted shake. Serve "as is" or fancy up in various shapes.

For the beverages, put out icy-cold cans of the frothy, vitamin-rich shakes. The quintet of flavors — vanilla, strawberry, chocolate, chocolate fudge and coffee—comes in pull-tab cans. Just pop and pour.

If the mother of the house has just a bit more time, she might adventure with these two simple suggestions from the Borden Kitchen for freezing and shaping the shakes. One's an idea for a snowman or other favorite cookie shapes; the second is a tri-color pop from a cup. Here's the how-to-do:

SHAKY, THE FROSTY SNOWMAN: Pour three cans of frosted shake (any flavor) into a jelly roll pan lined with waxed paper. Freeze until very firm; then turn onto a chilled cookie sheet. With a cookie cutter quickly cut out shapes; then decorate with chocolate chips or shot, coconut or raisins to make gingerbread men or snowmen. Return to freezer. To serve, transfer from cookie sheet to plate with a pancake turner.

TRICOLOR POP (makes six): You'll need three different flavored cans of frosted shake — chocolate, vanilla and strawberry are the most colorful — six wooden skewers and six 5-ounce paper cups.

Fill one-third of each cup with a layer of chocolate. Freeze just firm enough to hold a skewer. Insert skewers into this first layer, pour in vanilla shake to fill another third of the cup. Freeze until firm and pour in a layer of strawberry. Freeze until very firm. To serve, simply peel off the paper cup.

Breakfast Beats Mid-Morn Slump

Unless your family is composed of "morning" people, getting them to eat a decent breakfast may be one of the hardest things you do all day. But it's so necessary, in order to avoid that pre-noon slump. Vary the routine a little—instead of juice, serve a fruit cup, which you can fix the night before. And if you serve some warm Toast'em Pop-Ups, they'll have a head start on the day's vitamins—they're more nutritious than toast and a lot more fun.

Bright-and-Early Fruit Cup

2 tablespoons orange-flavored instant breakfast drink
1 cup water
4 cups diced fresh fruits (apples, pears, oranges, grapefruit, and bananas)

Dissolve instant breakfast drink in water. Pour over fruits, mixing lightly. Chill. (Instant breakfast drink retards discoloring of fruits.) Makes 4 cups or 8 servings.

Think Of Souffles —Light And Savory

Think souffles; think of light and savory foods. This main-course version from the Borden Kitchen has all the sprightliness of traditional souffles highlighted by the robust good taste of Liederkranz cheese . . . just part of the swing to the cookables for this American-developed cheese once thought of for dessert only.

Liederkranz Souffle
(Makes 4-6 servings)

- 3 tablespoons Danish Flavor Margarine or butter
- 3 tablespoons all-purpose flour
- 1 cup hot homogenized milk
- 1 (4-oz.) package Liederkranz Brand Soft Ripened Cheese
- 4 eggs, separated
- Pinch of salt

In a medium-size saucepan melt margarine or butter. Add flour; stir over medium heat until mixture bubbles. Remove from heat. Gradually stir in milk. Beat briskly with a wire whip. Return to medium heat. Stir constantly until sauce thickens. Add cheese; stir until melted. Remove from heat. Add egg yolks, one at a time, beating with wire whip after each addition. In a medium-size bowl beat egg whites and salt until stiff, but not dry. Fold beaten egg whites into cheese mixture. Turn mixture into a buttered 6-cup souffle dish, filling dish to about 2 inches from the top. With a spatula, cut a deep ring around edge of batter about 2 inches from sides of dish. Place in a hot (400°F.) oven. Reduce oven temperature to moderate (375°F.). Bake 30-35 minutes or until top is golden brown. Serve immediately.

Nut Cream Dessert Break For A Cook

Parlay this crunchy, creamy blend of gelatine, walnuts, sweetened condensed milk and heavy cream into a delightful party-going parfait. What a break for the busy cook. It's made with all the quickstep magic of canned sweetened condensed milk.

Nut Cream Dessert
(Makes six servings)

- 1 envelope unflavored gelatine
- 1/4 cup water
- 1-1/3 cups (15-oz. can) Eagle Brand Sweetened Condensed Milk
- 1/2 cup walnuts or hazelnuts, finely ground
- 1 teaspoon maple flavoring
- 1/2 pint Borden Heavy Cream, whipped

In the top of a double boiler, soften gelatine in water. Place over hot water; stir until dissolved. In medium-size bowl combine condensed milk and flavoring. Add dissolved gelatine and nuts. In a large bowl, fold condensed milk mixture into whipped cream. Place bowl over ice water. Continue to stir until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon. Spoon mixture into six 5-oz. parfait glasses. Refrigerate about 1-1/2 hours or until firm. Garnish with whole nuts.

Tattoo Troupe To Tour

When the British Tournament and Tattoo arrives at the Cow Palace November 6 on its first North American appearance, audiences will be witnessing a spectacular by the largest company ever to tour this continent. Most will be unaware that the 300 members of some of Great Britain's most distinguished regiments represent the heritage bestowed by a single man, unidentified, who took a lonely walk once beating his drum.,

The tradition of the Tattoo grew out of a humble circumstance as most traditions do. In this case the circumstance was a simple army routine that originated in the seventeenth century in the Lowlands where many British troops were serving. The men were billeted in small towns and villages where the only source of social intercourse was the local inn.

Military authorities, faced with the problem of corralling late revelers into their quarters devised the method of sending a drummer through the streets whose beat was the order for tavern keepers to turn off their taps. The Dutch expression for this unwelcome duty was "Doe den tap toe" which, freely translated, means "Turn off the taps."

"Tap Toe" became absorbed in the army jargon and vagaries of accent reduced it ultimately to "tattoo."

In the meantime the drummer found his loneliness somewhat diminished by a piper who was recruited to join him. The duo began to develop tunes to pass the time and before long more pipers and drummers joined in the midnight walks until finally the whole pipe and drum corps became involved. From this custom, which was adopted by other countries (notably the American colonies), it was only a step to concerts by the entire regimental band for the entertainment of the garrison.

The passage of years produced more and more complicated and elaborate presentations until the original custom of beating a "tattoo" to signify the conclusion to a military day evolved into the magnificent spectacle which the Tournament and Tattoo will display here.

Since 1880 England has presented such Tournaments which, in the beginning, took the form of competitions with swords and lances. Later rifles were used, and today the British exhibitions have become fascinating demonstrations of the skills of various branches of the armed forces.

South City Girl Studies In Lebanon

Gay Lee Gulbrandson, an El Camino High School graduate recently completed four semesters at Beloit College at Beloit, Wis., after which the South San Francisco girl left for Lebanon to attend the next two semesters at the American University of Beirut.

"I am majoring in biology and possibly art and AUB has an especially good department in biology and chemistry," the former EC co-ed noted.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Gulbrandson, 124 Escanyo Drive, SSF, Gay Lee disclosed the opportunity to attend school in Lebanon was made possible by Beloit.

"Beloit College has a cooperative program with Beirut as well as with many other colleges and universities throughout the world," Gay Lee said. She has completed four semesters at Beloit and is a junior.

A unique plan at Beloit enabled the congenial collegian to spend the past summer working at the Children's Museum in Boston for her field term. She found the Children's Museum, "A valuable experience in just plain living."

After the middle class year, a student at Beloit becomes an upper classman. She must again attend college another full year before graduating. Gay Lee, a middle classman, has taken one vacation term, a credit term and a field term.

Speaking of the future, Gay Lee disclosed, "I will have completed the first term of my upper class year by June. I plan on turing Europe by bicycle or continuing around the world next summer."

Bold Bruno Shoplift Told

Store clerks stared in disbelief as a pair of shoplifters—both males—walked into the Bonds Clothing store at the Serramonte Shopping Center shortly before closing Thursday grabbed a rackful of clothes and dashed outside to a waiting car.

The pair—one a Negro male and the other a white male—entered the store about 9 p.m.

They grabbed more than $190 in assorted clothing off nearby racks before running out the door to the parking lot where a waiting car sped off before clerks could stop them.

Daly City police apprehended a pair of youthful burglars inside the Bayshore Elementary school about 10:45 p.m. last night after an unidentified resident spotted them on the roof of the school.

Officer Tom Barner found the pair of 16-year-olds inside the school and arrested them. They were sent to Hillcrest Youth Guidance Center.

Vagrancy Changes Set

San Bruno City Attorney Joseph Galligan on October 14 asked for some quick action by the councilmen to amend a section of the city ordinance concerning vagrancy and miscellaneous offenses.

The councilmen responded by waiving the first reading, introducing and adopting the amendments.

Galligan said it was a "technical change" that added the phrase "good and reasonable cause." His intention is to take care of potential problems related to such things as sit-ins in public places.

"People have a right to go into retail stores, bars and restaurants," said Galligan. "This will give good and reasonable cause to get undesireables out."

Fire Razes Play House

A small play house located on a patio behind the main residence at 957 Seventh Avenue in San Bruno was destroyed by fire October 14.

Spokesmen for the San Bruno Fire Department said the fire was started by a small girl playing with matches inside the play house. Flames ignited a mattress, they said, shortly after 7:30 p.m.

Damage was considered by the firemen to be "negligible."

Cable Television Lawsuit Is Filed

A $500,000 lawsuit, charing a subcontractor with breach of contract, was filed on October 15 by the successful bidder for the cable TV franchise in San Carlos.

The suit was filed in Superior Court in Redwood City by Peninsula Cable Television Corporation of San Carlos and its parent company, Nation Wide Cablevision Inc., a Los Angeles firm. Defendants are Jardine of California Inc., Douglas M. Jardine and the Travelers Indemnity Company.

Charging that Jardine failed to live up to the terms of its contract with Peninsual covering construction of the community cable TV system in San Carlos the lawsuit states that it would cost about $200,000 to remedy construction defects. In addition, the document blames the Jardine Company for $300,000 in lost revenue.

In an alternative count, the suit asks for forefeiture of a $500,000 good performance bond posted by the Travelers Insurance Company on behalf of Jardine.

According to the lawsuit, Jardine was to start construction on July 29, and complete the work by November 15 of last year, after which Peninsula was to start selling subscriptions with the expectation of receiving a minimum of $25,000 a month in revenues.

Jardine, the suit charges, failed to do necessary preliminary work; failed to start by July 29, failed to maintain sufficient work crews "to properly and timely complete the work"; failed to follow plans and specifications; failed to follow the laws, rules and regulations of public agencies; failed to pay its subcontractors and material suppliers and fees due San Carlos; did not do the work in a "good, workmanlike and substantial manner," and failed to complete the job by November 14.

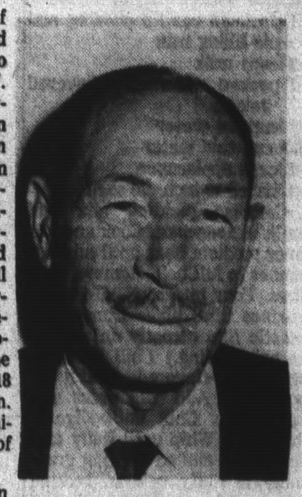
"Although the defendants claim that the work is now completed," the suits states, "the work on this date is in many respects still defective and incomplete."

Jardin has refused demands to remedy the deficiencies, according to the suit, "and has abandoned all further work under the contract."

A telephone call to Jardine's number in San Carlos disclosed that the phone is out of service and there is now new number.

Forest Service Promotes McBride

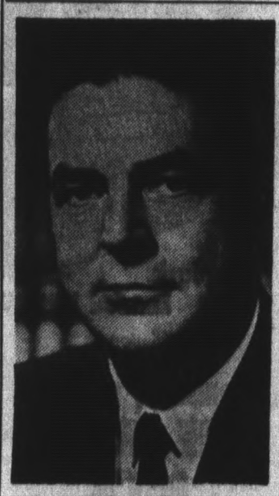
Robert S. McBride, 53, of Daly City, has been promoted by the U.S. Forset Service to Ogden, Utah. According to J. W. "Jack" Deinema, Forest Service Regional Forester in San Francisco, "McBride will be an assistant regional forester in charge of state and private forestry anf fire control for the intermountain region of the Forest service." Deinema noted that McBride's new tasks will be to work with four state foresters in the intermountain region's forestry assistance programs, and to administer the fire control activitie s on the 18 national forests in the region. He is a graduate from the University of California School of Forestry.



ROBERT McBRIDE

McBride's career started in 1937 at the Forest Service Experiment Station in Glendora. From there he moved to numerous assignments on the Angeles, Six Rivers, and Shasta-Trinity National Forests in California. He served in the U.S. Navy during World War II. From 1955 to 1960, he worked on the Sierra and Cleveland National Forests. In 1960, he transferred to the Division of Fire Contorl in the Forest Service California Regional Office in San Francisco. In 1963, he moved to his present position in the Division of State and Private Forestry in the Branch of Cooperative Forest Fire Protection.

McBride and his wife, Marjorie, will reside in Ogden. They have two sons, Steve 19, and Michael 18. They currently reside at 961 Higate Drive, Daly City. His new assignment starts on November 2.



EDWARD J. GEORGIA has been promoted to president of Thompson Aircraft Tire Corporation, South San Franrisco succeeding Vernon W. Sanders, who becomes chairman of the board. Georgia had been executive vice president and general manager.

Bloss Wins Millbrae Trophy

Marshall Bloss, of Millbra'ers Toastmasters Club, was presented the first place trophy by M. B. Rao, district lieutenant governor, for winning the area five humorous speech contest held last Saturday at the Flaming Pit restaurant in Daly City.

Bob Evans, area governor, announced that Bloss will represent the area in the district four contest to be held at the Bold Knight Restaurant in Sunnyvale on October 25. Jim Curl, Daly City club, was the runner-up and will be the alternative speaker in the district contest.

Phyllis Estrem, accompanied by Janet Holden, entertained the group with three delightful songs and Elvis Damon presented interesting table topics questions to the audience.

Once More We Can Look Ahead to a Long Season of Delicious Apple Delights

The riot of color at roadside stands and markets can mean only one thing — the apple harvest is in! Leafy green boughs so heavily laden just a few weeks ago are lifting skyward again now that the colorful fruit has been picked.

Once more we can look forward to a long season of apple delights — pies, cobblers, puddings, cakes, cookies, baked apples, or just apples, chilled in the refrigerator, ready for eating "out of hand" — but most of all apple pies, America's favorite dessert.

Thanks to improved technology in refrigerated storage, fresh apples are available for our enjoyment from one harvest almost to the next. And all the year 'round there are processed apple products in cans and jars on the grocer's shelf and in packages in his frozen food cabinet. Applesauce leads in popularity in the ready-to-serve category. Spiced apple rings are also available. Delicious ready-to-use pie filling or pie sliced apples, as you prefer, are always on hand. Even baked apples emerge from cans! And when the supply of fresh cider is gone we can enjoy bottled cider the apple juice "as is" or made into delightful cool drinks and punches the year around.

So here are recipes for three fine pies, two made with fresh apples to enjoy right now and one made with applesauce which can be either homemade or canned, to be served with pride the year around.

STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL PIE

1 package vanilla pudding and pie filling mix
2 cups milk
1 packae strawberry flavored gelatin
1 cup hot water
1-3 cup cold water
2 cups applesauce
1 baked 10-inch pie shell

Combine pudding mix and milk in saucepan. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to full boil. Remove from heat. Pour into bowl. (To avoid surface film, place transparent plastic film directly on surface of hot pudding.) Chill. Dissolve strawberry-flavored gelatin in hot water. Add cold water and applesauce. Chill until slightly thickened. Whip until fluffy and thick. Add chilled pudding gradually to fluffy gelatin, beating after each addition until well blended. Spoon into pie shell. Chill until firm (about one hour). Garnish with whipped cream.

APPLE APPLESAUCE FLAN

1 package pie crust mix
3 cups thick homemade applesauce, spiced and sweetened
4 or 5 large tart apples
2-3 cup currant jelly
1-3 cup cold water

Roll pastry 1/8-inch thick; place in 12-inch pizza pan; flute edge. Spoon applesauce into pastry-lined pan. Pare and core apples; slice thin. Place on applesauce in concentric circles. Combine currant jelly and water; heat and stir until well blended. Pour over apple slices. Bake at 425 degrees about 30 minutes, or until apple slices are tender. Serve warm with whipped cream. Makes 12 servings.

APPLESAUCE

8 tart apples
3/4 cup water (about)
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
Dash cinnamon
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel (optional)

Pare and core apples; slice thin. Add just enough water to prevent scorching. Bring to boil; lower heat to simmer; cover. Cook about 20 minutes, or until apples are soft. Put through food mill or sieve. Add sugar (amount depends upon tartness of apples) and spices. Stir in lemon peel.

Note: If apples are quite sweet, add a little lemon juice.

Some cooks prefer to cut up apples without paring or removing cores. The apples are then cooked and sieved as above. Unpared red apples will impart a faint pink tint to the applesauce and these cooks feel that cores and peel impart added flavor to the sauce.

MANDARIN APPLE PIE

5 tart apples
2 cans or jars (11 oz. each) mandarin oranges
Or 2 cups fresh orange sections.
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 cup flour
3/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon allspice
Grated peel of 1 orange
Grated peel of 1 lemon
Pastry for 2-crust 10-inch pie
3 tablespoons butter or margarine

Pare, core and slice apples. Drain oranges. Combine sugar, flour, brown sugar, spices and grated peels. Line 10-inch pie pan with pastry. Alternate layers of apple slices and orange sections in pan, sprinkling each layer with sugar mixture, dot with butter. Roll out remaining pastry; cut into 10 strips about 12 inches long and 3/4 inch wide. Arrange over pie lattice fashion. Trim and flute edges. If desired, brush pastry strips with slightly beaten egg white and sprinkle with a little sugar. Fasten pastry "buttons" to ends of strips by moistening with a little milk. Bake at 425 degrees for 15 minutes; lower heat to 400 degrees; bake 30 minutes longer.

Pumpkin Pie Recipe You May Like

Unless you're of the opinion that without Pumpkin Pie no Thanksgiving dinner is worthy of the name, try this delicious yet easy-to-prepare Family Circle original. You'll be glad you did.

HARVEST YAM PIE

Bake shell at 350 degrees for 8 minutes. Makes 1 nine-inch pie

1 cup fine zwieback crumbs (16 pieces)
1 cup crunchy nutlike cereal nuggets
1/4 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
6 tablespoons (3/4 stick) butter or margarine, melted
1 can (1 pound) yams or sweet potatoes, drained
1 package (3 ounces) egg-custard mix
1 1/2 cups milk
1/4 cup maple-blended syrup
1 teaspoon pumpkin-pie spice
1 container (4 1/2 ounces) frozen whipped topping, thawed

1. Blend zwieback crumbs, cereal, brown sugar, and melted butter or margarine in a large bowl. Press evenly over bottom and side of a 9-inch pie plate.

2. Bake in moderate oven (350 degree) 8 minutes, or until set. Cool completely in pie plate on a wire rack.

3. Mash yams well with a fork in a large saucepan; stir in custard mix, milk, syrup, and pumpkin-pie spice. Heat over medium heat, stirring constantly, to boiling; press through a sieve into a large bowl. Cool, stirring often, 30 minutes. Fold in half of the whipped topping; spoon into cooled pie shell. Chill several hours, or until firm. Just before serving, spoon remaining topping in a ring on pie.

WRAP TIGHTLY

The softer and moister the cheese is — the more perishable. To prevent drying out or transfer of flavors, wrap the cheese tightly in foil or other airtight container or wrapper. If a bit of mold develops on a hard type cheese, you can just cutoff the mold and use the remaining portion.

Pennsylvania Dutch Recipe Is Speeded and Simplified With Instant Potato Flakes

Pennsylvania Dutch cooking has a unique appeal to all manner of men. It is a meat and potatoes kind of cooking considerate of all ages and appetites. It is wholesome and plain, but not at all plain boring! The simply prepared meats can be glorified with your choice of sweets and sours. The potatoes come in many tempting guises.

The instant potato flake and buds can be adapted to every region's special way of cooking. Peeling and boiling and mashing potatoes to perfection is an exacting art, requiring much time, much patience. There's nothing to it anymore. You can make potato dumplings in a jiffy. Leftover roasts or ground meat with a mashed potato topping is the production named Shepherd's Pie. Chefs in restaurants everywhere gild their finest lilies with a piping of potatoes.

A Delectable Relic

These Pennsylvania Potato Chops can be topped with grated fresh potatoes, the frozen or dehydrated hashed browns. Since pork chops have a tendency to dry cut, the potatoes act as a protective blanket. Like ples and cider gently flavor this one.

PENNSYLVANIA POTATO CHOPS

4 thick loin pork chops
Salt and pepper
1 cup apple cider
2 large Idaho potatoes, grated, or 1 12-oz. package frozen hash browned potatoes
1 small onion, grated
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
8 fried apple rings
Cinnamon

Brown chops on both sides in a little fat. Arrange in baking dish, sprinkle with salt and pepper and pour cider over them. Cover tightly and bake at 350-deg. F., 45 minutes. Uncover. Wring excess moisture from potatoes. Mix with onion, butter and salt and pepper to taste. Spread over chops, shaping lightly with your fingers. Turn up oven to 450-deg. F. and continue baking until potatoes are brown. Serve with apple slices dusted with cinnamon. Makes 4 servings.

To make apple rings, core and slice 2 large apples. Dip into mixture of 3 tablespoons brown sugar and 1 teaspoon cinnamon. Brown in butter on both sides. If desired add 2-3 tablespoons water to pan and cover to steam until tender.

PENNSYLVANIA DUTCH POTATO STUFFING

1 cup chopped onion
½ cup chopped celery
6 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 quarts seasoned croutons (Stuffing mix)
1 package (8 servings) instant Idaho potato flakes
Salt and pepper
Chopped parsley

Cook onion and celery in butter or margarine. Toss with croutons in large bowl. Prepare potatoes according to package directions and mix lightly with rest of ingredients. Season. Add a good handful of chopped Parsley. Stuff lightly into turkey neck and body cavities (will stuff a 16 to 18 lb. bird). Or bake separately in a moderate oven in a greased casserole tightly sealed with aluminum foil cover.

Armenian Recipes At S.F. Bazaar

Free Armenian recipes and a menu of Armenian dishes reading like a Middle East dictionary are a few of the highlights at St. John Armenian Apostolic Church's annual Bazaar and Food Festival, Saturday, October 25 and Sunday, October 26 at 275 Olympia Way, San Francisco.

Marking the 27th anniversary of the event, the Bazaar will feature continuous serving of Armenian food — buffet style from 1 p.m. on both days.

The Church women (and men) have been working for the past three months concocting the many delicacies which will be sold during the weekend. A variety of exotic foods included Shish Kebab (herb seasoned barbecued lamb); Pilaf (Armenian rice); Kufta (a unique meatball stuffed with a meatball); Cheese Beoreg (flaky dough turnovers filled with cheese); Lokoom (Armenian candy); and Paklava, Bourma, Kadayif, Kurabia and Kata (sweet pastries) and many other dishes.

Visitor to the Bazaar, which has free admission, will also be given a complimentary booklet of Armenian recipes. A well stocked Take-Out Food Booth will be open for those wishing to try the delicacies at home or fill up home freezers.

Entertainment on both Saturday and Sunday evenings will feature Armenian music and folk dancing performed by nationally costumed dancers.

CHEESE BEOREG
(Armenian flaky dough cheese turnovers)

Dough

5 cups flour
2 eggs
1 tsp. salt
1 tbsp. oil
1½ cups lukewarm water
1 lb. sweet butter (melted)

Cheese Filling

1½ lb. Jack cheese, grated
½ cup chopped parsley
2 eggs, beaten
one ¾ inch dowel stick for rolling

Beat eggs, add water, oil and salt; blend together and stir in flour. Mix well and knead for about 5 to 10 minutes. Divide dough into three balls and set aside to rest for about two hours, covered.

Take one ball at a time and open with rolling pin and then dowel stick until about 30 inches in diameter. Set each one aside until all three balls have been opened.

Brush first sheet of dough generously with lukewarm melted butter, then set the second sheet on top of it and brush with butter. Set the third sheet on top of the first two and again brush with butter.

Fold opposite sides toward the center and butter, then fold other two sides toward the center and butter. It will look like a square package when finished. Place on a cookie sheet, cover with waxed paper and chill in refrigerator for a half hour.

Then take the dough and cut it into 2x2 inch-squares. Open each square with rolling pin until it is a 5x5-inch square. Mix filling ingredients together. Place a tablespoon of cheese filling on one side of each square, fold one corner to opposite corner to resemble turnover and press ends with fingers to seal. Brush top with beaten egg and bake in 350 degree oven for about 20 minutes or until golden in color. Makes about 30 cheese beoreg. Can also be frozen and then baked as needed.

NOTE: Smaller size cheese beoreg can be used for hot cocktail appetizers.

Skillet Dish For Lunch

This easy Spanish rice makes a satisfying dish all by itself for lunch; serve it also as a side dish with hamburgers for supper. In skillet cook six slices bacon, diced, until crisp. Pour off most of the drippings. Stir in two cans (8 ounces each) or one can (15 ounces) tomato sauce with tomato bits, one cup uncooked regular rice, one cup water, ¼ cup chopped green pepper and ¼ cup chopped onion. Simmer, covered, 30 to 40 minutes or until rice is tender. Makes four to six servings.

To prevent liquid from forming on the top of pie meringues, add ¼ teaspoon of baking powder with the sugar.

LEWIS SNARES RECORD

Rams, Terra Nova, HMB Win

(Photos Page 33)

By JERRY LITTRELL

It was almost sinful. The ease with which Jim Lewis of Westmoor became the premier runner in North Peninsula League history, that is.

Shattering all league records for a single game, including those held by South San Francisco legend Greg Jones, the talented Ram halfback carried the ball just 12 times against Oceana on Friday but ripped off 275 yards for a new standard in the 40-14 win over the sharks.

In other NPL games on Friday Terra Nova's strong second half gave the Tigers a 28-6 win over winless Jefferson and Half Moon Bay smothered Serramonte, 42-16.

Apparently still stinging from their poor showing against Terra Nova last week, the Rams came on strong right from the start getting two lucky broken plays for touchdowns before the game was six minutes old. Quarterback Mike Swallow threw to end Bob McLennon only to have the ball tipped by an Oceana defender. But the tip went straight up allowing McLennon to recover and score from the 19.

Then a simple sweep by Lewis in the wet-going turned into a scrambling, reverse run which, after forcing him 20 yards behind scrimmage, netted him one of his three scores, this one from 57 yards out. He scored later on two runs of 67 yards. Swallow hit McLennon, a sophomore, from 73 yards out again as the Rams struck quickly, neglecting the power-offense which has been their trademark.

Halfback Tim Lutz fired up a sluggish Tiger offense after intermission as the TN eleven got its first NPL win. Leading by just 6-0 at half the Tigers broke loose when fullback Mike Humphrey scored from the two and Lutz took the next series finale in from the three. Lutz was the leading rusher with 76 yards. Brian Ramsey was TN's leading lineman.

HMB got up 30-0 before halftime and coasted in its practice game. Jerry Heuman got the second.

Taking Realistic View of Giants —A Short Bench

By LE PACINI

NOW THAT IT'S ALL OVER, even the shouting, let's take a realistic view of the Giants. To do such a thing, one must first assess their injury problems and to what degree that factor really affected their pennant chances.

We think we read somewhere, toward the end of the season, that trainer Leo Hughes had accounted for something over 50 separate injuries which caused players to miss action. We're not sure of that figure, but we do know that at least one time or another, all of the following players missed more than four days' playing time: Hiatt, Davenport, Dietz, Etheridge, Fuentes, Henderson, Hunt, Lanier, Mason, Perry, Sadecki, Mays, McCovey and Hart.

Hart's absence perhaps hurt the most, because he left the Giants without that important fifth slot covered in back of McCovey. God knows what Big Willie could have done had he only seen three or four good pitches during the season.

As it was, the Giants finished in second place, and were in it until almost the very last day. Many people were amazed that they finished that well and with some reason. No doubt, the injuries hurt, no pun intended.

But consider the 1949 Yankees, who played .630 ball (the Giant's played .566) and won the pennant. Their club physician at the time, Dr. Sidney Gaynor, kept a check list and counted 74 separate cases of disabilities.

Following is a list of the more serious cases:

Joe DiMaggio—Recurrent heel spur problem, virus pneumonia, played only 70 games.

Tommy Henrich—broken toen chipped toe (continually reinjured same toe), badly bruised arm (from being hit with a pitched ball), dislocated vertebra, played just 115 games, almost always in pain.

Yogi Berra—broken thumb, bruised thigh (hit with pitched ball), gruised hand, split finger, wrenched side, bad eye from being clonked with a thrown ball, and he was knocked out on a home plate collision. Played 116 games, most of them at far from 100 per cent efficiency.

Bobby Brown (who platooned at third with Bobby Johnson)—severely sprained ankle which caused him to miss a month of the season.

Johnny Lindell (who platooned in the outfield)—sprained ankle, out a week.

Gene Woodling (another platooning outfielder)—severely torn knee cartilages, yet he missed only a few days and limped most of the rest of the time.

Johnny Mize (a late season acquisition from the Giants for stretch help in last six weeks of season)—shoulder separation, played only 13 games.

Phil Rizzuto—a head concussion who didn't force him to miss many innings, but did put him at sub-par efficiency for a time.

Charley Silvera and Gus Niarhos (the catchers behind Berra)—Silvera, hit in the mouth with a foul and spiked, played only 18 games; Niarhos, hit in the head with a flying bat, in only 32 games.

Snuffy Stirnweiss — pinched hand nerve, got to bat only 157 times, usually couldn't swing properly.

WE BRING THIS UP about that '49 Yankee team not to put down the Giants or to imply that they weren't as gutty as those old Yankees. We must in fact point out that the Yankees had a great advantage.

They were playing in a 16 team, rather than 24 team, major league, there was as yet no rule against teams making deals for players late in the season (such as the Johnny Mize coup), there was no "common draft"; that was, in other words, in the era before all of the new rules were installed to break up the Yankees.

Because of all these factors, and especially because there was no expansion to drain excess player talent, the Yankees had the bench to cope with all of those misfortunes.

And therein lies the rub. Publicity aside, the Giants just didn't have enough bench. Sure, there was much written about how their "Phoenix" club won so many games, but check back and you'll find that the teams that essentially 1968 Coast League club was beating, when the regulars were out, were, in effect, other Coast League clubs, circa '69 — the expansion teams

When the Giants faced the real major league teams with their bench, they seldom beat them.

Thus, our assessment of the 1970 Giants is that they're going to need a real bench. Perhaps the bench of this year, with the valuable experience it picked up, will be more adequate for next season. But we wouldn't take any chances.

AS YOU KNOW — if you've read this column regularly — we've had periodic crusades against Little League-type baseball and football, at least those programs which are handled by amateurs, which usually means handled poorly. Last year we did a ong piece concerning the matter for a Sunday supplement. Many have agreed with what we've said, others have called us many things, which liberally and euphemistically interpreted come out "know-nothing" or "child-pamperer."

We hope the latter group read in the dailies, a week ago, of what orthopedic surgeon had to say about junior sports programs during a talk before the American College of Surgeons at their San Francisco convention.

We quote, and paraphrase, in part:

Dr. Nicholas J. Giannestras, assistant clinical professor of orthopedic surgery at the University of Cincinnati, said that poorly supervised junior sports programs are causing serious permanent injuries to youngsters and recommended severe restrictions on such activities. Giannestras is the doctor who treated Sandy Koufax when the great lefty attended the University of Cincinnati, and he said that Sandy's elbow problems probably began at age eight in sandlot ball.

Little League elbow and football "Knees," says the doctor, are becoming more and more prevalent, primariy because too many youngsters pushed too fast by too many people who don't know what they're doing.

GIANNESTRAS "CONFESSED" that even when Koufax was at Cincy U., he used to inject his elbow with cortisone so that he couldpitch.

"The ideal thing for me would have been to have the intestinal fortitude to say no . . .' said Giannestras, "but his father came to me and said, 'This boy has a tremendous future in baseball.' The coach begged me. Even the school authorities begged me."

Dr. Giannestras said that if such organizations aren't willing to adhere to recommendations which have been set down by professionals for the handling of such youngsters (such as not allowing kid pitchers to throw breaking pitches or to pitch more than six or seven innings a week) — and that includes the psychological as well as physical handling — then serious consideration should be given to the idea by concerned physicians and parents of somehow attempting to discontinue baseball and football during the "formative years of a youngster's life" and substitute other sports.

AND ONE LAST SHOT for the baseball statistics nuts at least ONE of the last shots, especially those who like the odd ones. Babe Ruth holds six of the top ten all time single season

CROSS-TOWN RIVALRY

Warriors Jolted, But Win

It hardly seems appropriate to mention it but El Camino went scoreless again Friday against cross-town rival South San Francisco — the sixth straight year the Colts have been unable to hit paydirt against the Warriors.

The hesitation to mention that stems from the fact that this year's Colt squad should stand on its own accomplishments. And accomplish quite a bit they did. Were it not for a broken pass pattern late in the fourth period no one might have scored.

As it turned out the Warriors still retained a little of the "Old Blue Magic" that has served them so well this decade and Lady Luck chipped in her fair share in allowing the South City crew to take a hard-fought and bitter 6-0 victory.

It was a game of rough-tough football all the way as neither team could generate a consistent yard-eating offense. Some of the best inside line play the league and Peninsula has seen in many games took place from tackle to tackle last night with neither team gaining much of an edge.

"If our offense hadn't bogged down in the first half we might have done it to them right then," said losing coach Tom McCormick, disappointed with the loss but encouraged by the head-cracking of his interior linemen. "In football the offense always comes last. We just weren't quite ready, it seems. But it's coming, it's coming."

If one individual on offense has to stand out it must be S.S.F. quarterback Brad Brian, who completed his first five throws, seven of his nine for 105 yards, hit on that key broken play to set up the lone touchdown and fnally scored the lone tally.

"They gave us quite a scare tonight," admitted Ray DeJong. "One play made the difference. In my opinion, Brian is the best quarterback around and he proved it tonight with the way he handled the game."

With just over five minutes left in the game the Warriors began a march from their own 9. Five plays later, on the 44, the drive appeared halted when Brian, trying to throw, was forced to run for his life towards the sidelines and an obvious loss. But at the last moment he spotted flanker Joe Majka deep downfield, set himself and lofted a 48-yard pass to his secondary receiver.

Three plays later Brian snuck over from the half-yard line. It took the officials several seconds to unpile the mess but on the bottom they found the ball and Brian in a death-lock hold about two feet deep into the end zone.

South City's own defense, headed by tackle Cliff Connedy and guard Gary Ewalt, did a tremendous job of its own stopping Camino at 46 yards rushing.

Canada And Skyline In Dual Upsets

It didn't take neophytes Skyline and Canada Colleges very long to catch onto the game of soccer.

The two first year members of the Western Junior College Soccer Conference found themselves deadlocked for first place as a result of two stunning upsets yesterday.

Up at Skyline in San Bruno, the young booters of coach Norm Friedenburg defeated College of San Mateo, 3-1, for their third straight league victory and eighth of the season against no defeats.

And down at the Canada turf in Redwood City, the Colts surprised title favorite City College of San Francisco, 3-0, in a conference match. The results of the dual turnabouts give both Canada and Skyline perfect 3-0 marks in league play.

"It was a real great battle and plenty exciting," noted Friedneburg.

Over 150 Competed In Contest

The 1969 Ford NFL Punt, Pass, and Kick competition was held recently at Orange Memorial Park. Approximately 150 boys took part in the annual event co-sponsored again this year by Fred Lautze Ford and the SSF Recreation and Park Department.

Co-ordinators for the 1969 contest were Loy Grier, assistant sales manager of Lautze Ford, and John Falsarella of the SSF Recreation Depatrment.

The boys competed against youngsters their own age from ages eight through 13. Gold, silver, and brong trophies went to the first, second and third place winners in each of the six age groups.

Eight year old division winners: 1st, Michael Leveroni; 2nd, Sam Rincon; 3rd, Dennis Clary.

Thirteen year old division winners: 1st, Donald Tylenda; 2nd, John Murray; 3rd, Mario Staben.

Herman Segelke, last year's 10 year old National Champion, Edward Fisher and Don Tylehda all were first place local winners last year and repeated again this year. They along with Michael Leveroni, Medford Myers, and Larry Grubbe, will go on to compete in San Francisco in th Zone Competitions.

BURLINGAME WINS

Still No Falcon Victories

By PETE BARSOCCHINI
Post Correspondent

Burlingame star Hank Sauer attained the mile mark in total yardage as a Panther, but his fellow halfback Ron Pearl was the key to Bulringame's 30-30 victory over the winless Crestmoor Falcons Friday.

The Panther ground attack was devastating for the entire tiff with Pearl running for three tallies and Steve Robertson scoring on a spectacular 81-yard dash. The Burlingame offensive line opened huge gaps in the Falcon defense and the Panther runners could virtually choose their holes as the Panthers upped their Mid-Peninsula League mark to 2-0.

The game opened up with a well-played first quarter by both teams but with the beginning of the second stanza Crestmoor collapsed and it was all Burlingame the rest of the way. The Panthers tallied twice in the second period on runs of 49 yards and 20 yards by Pearl to lead 16-0 at the half-way mark.

The Falcons came out with a renewed determination in the third period and their offensive unit marched down to the Panther five-yard line on their first drive. After an offside penalty and a broken draw play Crestmoor was forced to give up the leather. On the Panthers' first play from scrimmage Robertson scooted 81 yards for a touchdown.

Burlingame controlled the ball for most of the fourth period and managed to score three times while trying to run out the clock but two of these tallies were taken away on penalties. Crestmoor tried once again to penetrate the Panther defense but was unsuccessful and the clock ran out.

As mentioned previously, Sauer, Burlingame's star halfback, gained enough yardage to attain the unique honor of having gained over one mile in total yards as a Panther. Sauer gained only 42 yards last night but that was more than enough to put him over the mile total.

Flyers Lose To Marauders

The Daly City Flyers lost to the Mountain View Marauders, 14 to 12, Sunday in a Pop Warner game at Jefferson High School.

The Flyers scored the first touchdown of the game in the first quarter, with a 45 yard run by Orrin Patrick. The try for the extra point failed.

In the second quarter, Montain View recovered a Daly City funble and ran for a 30 yard touchdown. The extra point try was good.

The Flyers scored their last touchdown on a two yard quarterback sweep by Phil Cuadra. The extra point failed.

The Flyers have lost three games.

The Daly City fifth quarter team put a good fight, but lost to the Mountain View Marauders fifth quarter team, 7-0.

The Daly City Flyers will meet the Pacifica Dolphins at Terra Nova High School in Linda Mar Sunday.

slugging averages. No other name in that partilular top ten appears more than once.

Ruth also holds four of the top ten single season homerun ratios, including the first three. Mickey Mantle is the only other player to appear in that category more than once, and he did it "only" twice. Mantle, oddly, had a better homerun ratio than Maris the year Maris hit his 61—10.05 to 10.3. That 10.5 was the best ever aside from Ruth's 11.8, 11.1 and 10.9.

Strange as it may seem, Cleveland's Luis Tiant (who lost 20 games this past season), holds the all-time single season record for average number of hits allowed per game for a starting pitcher. In '68, Tiant gave up only 5.29 hits per nine innings.

Bet you'll NEVER guess who holds the all time lifetime record for fewest hits allowed per nine innings. Sandy Koufax, that's who. He allowed just 6.79 hits per nine innings.

And since this is once again the year of the hitter, sort of, we'll finish up with a batting statistic. Sam Thompson, along with Lou Gehrig and Hank Greenberg, holds the lifetime record for most RBI's per game — .92 (Ruth and Joe Dimaggio are at .89) Who's Sam Thompson? He was a big left handed hitting outfielder who played mostly for Philadelphia in the NL before the turn of the century.

CROCKER SCHOOL

The Crocker School Rams flag football team breezed to their first victory of the season, 25-6, defeating the Woodrow Wilson Werewolves. The game was played at George Washington last Saturday. Jerry Furtch, Gary Gilbert, Earl Taylor, Frankie Shelton and Ron Davis all contributed in the scoring. Kieth Shelton, Charles McNeil, Wesley Arceneau, and Jaymie did the offensive and defensive line chores with extreme efficiency. With their offensive and defensive speed and power, the Rams must be considered a solid contender for the championship.

D.D.R.'s flag football team lost its second Daly City Recreation Department game in as many tries, 13-17, however there were some bright spots during the defeat to Skyline School as Mark Flick troubled Skyline School defenders all day and stopped three touchdowns. Other standouts in the game were Dee Stevens, John Dewey, Bill Gurr, Dell Nelson, and Jerry Lewis. Also the pep girls of Franklin D. Roosevelt should be credited with giving the team great support.

WESTMOOR PARK
By RUSS JORDAN

Westmoor Park started out its Daly City Recreation Department Flag Football season with a win over Abraham Lincoln School 25-6. The Giants scored in every period with touchdowns in the first, third and fourth quarters, and a safety in the second. Jack Hidalger scored one touchdown and quarterback Ken De Alba scored two. Bob Hifal, Steve Cornelo and John Drocco played good ball on both offense and defense.

SKYLINE SCHOOL

The Skyline Assassins remain undefeated as they eluded the F. D. Roosevelt Colts, 13-12, in a Daly City Recreation Department 6th grade flag football game. Both Assassin touchdowns were a result of quarterback Mark Bagdasarian handing off to tight end Randy Gaston on an end around play. Randy ran 35 yards for one TD and 25 for the nightcap.

Student Protests Air Force Grid Schedules On Campus

By WILL E. THOMAS

A Westmoor student is protesting the presence on campus of U.S. Air Force wallet-sized recruiting service cards that list the high school's football schedule. He is demanding that the Jefferson High School District trustees declared the cards in violation of school rules.

Jim Musselwhite, a frequent school administration critic, who said he was a selected representative of the Ram student government to the trustee meeting, recalling the student Inquiry Club last year was suspended because it passed out American Federation of Teacher material during Local 1481's strike, said that to allow the grid schedule cards was discriminatory.

"I would consider allowing the Air Force to distribute literature like this is discriminatory," he said.

The card, he said, carries a recruiting message on one side — the grid schedule on the reverse side.

"It caused quite a reaction among some people," sophomore Musselwhite declared. He asserted that the Air Force should not "be afforded rights not given to taxpaying institutions or students."

He said rules are "made to enforce, all the time, for everyone," adding that "without enforcement rules are meaningless."

Thus, Musselwhite advanced, the Air Force "literature" should not be allowed, unless the district also permits other diversified materials.

He commented that, to him, an example of an opposite view to the Air Force recruiting material would be the establishment on campus of "an effective draft counseling program," and such a move "would considerably improve our district."

Musselwhite asked whether or not cards distributed by Planned Parenthood, SDS or other such organizations, "radical or non-radical," would be accepted, or "will the military be allowed to continue propagandizing?"

Board Chairman Al Teglia wanted to know if the Air Force "broke a law?" and Trustee Ed Solomon noted the card-pitch could be "looked upon as offering a job."

Supt. Edward Morgan commented that all the administrators had served in the Armed Forces to "preserve" Musselwhite's "right" to speak, and he explained how the practice was discontinued where recruiters had actually "come in and addressed the senior class," but that attendance at Armed Forces' recruiting sessions is now optional.

Morgan said that, under an optional program the recruiters are "permitted on campus, as they should be. This is a part of our country," and he didn't think the football schedule was a violation of the rules.

On the other hand, Morgan said he did believe that literature on such causes as Che Guevara Day and Student Mobilization to be "direct violations" of the board's rulings and the state's Education Code.

As for the grid schedules, Morgan said he didn't think anyone "forced cards upon anyone," though Musselwhite later gave the impression that he believed the students were "told to take one."

Musselwhite said he was unopposed to having representatives of the military on campus for those who want what they offer, but he said he believed those with opposing views should be able to have the indivergent points of few presented.

Musselwhite upon questioning said he had approached the Westmoor principal relative to a draft counseling program, but the student explained he had received a "watered down" version of his original request.

"Do you think you represent the great portion of the student body?" asked Trustee Elio Fontana, who without benefit of a noticeable breath, added, "I hope you don't!"

Musselwhite replied that he thought he represented the political viewpoint of some five to 10 per cent of the Westmoor student body, but inserted, "I think 100 per cent, realistically, would want to hear both sides."

Musselwhite said later in the discussion that "nobody should have privileges he won't have when he's 21."

He explained that he was not "trying to alienate anyone" — just merely citing the existence of the cards as example of "a problem on campus."

Westmoor student Joan Berning decried the board's and trustee reference to patriotism.

She said a person doesn't "have to support the military to be patriotic."

"You don't have to kill" to be patriotic, she added.

Miss Berning called information presented at school "one sided, and one-sided all through school."

She said youngsters were being brainwashed as though it's true . . . and it might not be true."

Lisa Kaplan, also on patriotism, and the subject at hand, had nearly the last word before the trustees move into an executive session but not quite.

She said when she was in kindergarten "you taught me a song," and she recited "My Country Tis of Thee," capping it with a direct, hard look to trustees and asked "who the hell do you think you are?"

She stalked out of the chambers.

Board Chairman Al Teglia essentially had the last words, as he admonished the young people: "Maybe you've had too many privileges," and suggested that perhaps they might be in line for a greater voice when they start paying the taxes that provide their education.

That was his answer to "Who the hell . . ."

"A taxpayer," he insisted.

What 'Average Folks' Say About Police

SELDOM, IF EVER, do you read what average folks say about police. So-o-o . . . we thought it our duty to take up some of the slack.

". . . WRITING TO THANK THE MEN OF YOUR (police) department who . . . responded so quickly on the morning of August 23 to aid my husband. I feel my husband's life was saved through their efforts . . ." Mrs. Frances A. Jones.

"I would like to express my sincere gratitude to the police department in the quick response to my dilemma of having my automobile stolen ..... it was returned to me in less than 24 hours. I am at a loss for words to express my gratefulness . . . " Wayne Pickerins.

SURE, WE KNOW about that 16-year-old Jefferson High School boy who slugged the principal of El Camino High School at a local football game two weeks ago. But most folks have blown the thing 'way out of proportion.

Here's the story, according to official reports:

An EC school boy was accused of trying to loot a Jeff High youth's car and was allegedly caught at it. Several outraged Jeff guys started roughing him up and school authorities from El Camino decided to escort him out of the ball park and back to safer ground (in San Bruno).

As six teachers surrounded the accused and started marching him away, Jeff rooters tried to punch a wedge in the human fortification and one rather husky youth succeeded only in punching the principal.

The youth was arrested. He claims the principal slugged first. The principal denies it. And that's where it stands at present.

A PLAQUE HONORING late Daly City Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy will be installed at city hall in the near future. The bronze memorial was purchased by the Daly City Volunteer Fire Department.

BIG POW WOW — A meeting scheduled for this morning between Supervisor Robert St. Clair, School Supt. Ed Morgan and Daly City City Mgr. Dave Rowe, regarding the proposed county-school service building near city hall. The flame hasn't gone out yet . . . but it's starting to flicker!

SPEAKING OF ROWE, the city manager just returned from a New York City meeting of the International City Managers' Association. Lasted 11 days. And while in Washington, D.C., Our Source informs San Mateo Representative Paul N. (Pete) McCloskey made his official car available to Rowe. McCloskey probably remembers how the vote went in this neck of the woods (overwhelmingly for him).

THAT 6-YEAR-OLD Huertas boy, injured when he was hit in the eye by some junk thrown by another child while playing at the scene of an abandoned home on Vista Grande (NOT Santa Barbara Avenue as earlier reported), may lose the use of his left eye. Doctors and parents hoping the child will recover from the injury. Too soon to tell, they say. Possible lawsuit pending against the landowner.

RABBI HERB MORRIS has withdrawn from the Daly City Library Commission and also the Daly City Rotary Club because of "pressing duty" resulting from the recent merger of the Temple Beth Israel on Geary Street and Temple Judea on Brotherhood Way. Rabbi Morris will now have both congregations. Busy, busy.

FLASHY FLASH — You won't find Daly City Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett playing on that San Francisco Playboy Club Bunnies versus San Mateo County Mayors' Benefit Baseball Game in Redwood City, November 9 (at Hawes Park). His own "Bunny" hopped all over him at the mere mention of it. And so did his doctor! Lycett is a heart patient — all healed — and his wife's name is (on our Scout's Honor) Bunny.

SOME PEOPLE WILL DO ANYTHING to get their name in print. For months, Larry Roy, co-owner of the Westlake Barber Shop, has been trying to push off publicity for his shop. No dice! Finally, he became newsworthy one day last week. His wife, Ro Jean, gave birth to a wailing baby girl. The new addition was named Lona . . . And speaking of Hair, as in barbershops not stage productions: The latest men's hair styles have just arrived from France, Al Molina, owner of The Den on 87th Street, tells us. Al, who waits breathlessly for such things, said the new look is the "sculptured image." This means they cut your hair to match your features. Square, in our case!

DALY CITY HAZARD—This dilapidated structure on Santa Barbara Street in Daly City is more than just an eyesore—its a hazard to children in the area! The city attorneys office is waging an all-out war on similar "nuisances" throughout the city. In the past year several small children have been injured at vacated structures in the city and the council decided to "clamp down" on persons responsible. (Post Photo)

Coin Collecting

A 175-year-OLD SILVER DOLLAR in mint condition recently sold for $16,500. There were only 1,700 silver dollars coined in 1794 and this was one of only ten coins extant in perfect condition.

Coin collecting is a favorite hobby of many people and there are many capable and legitimate dealers willing to assist in the formation of a coin collection.

However, there are a number of purported bona fide coin dealers who are interested only in the sale of so-called catalogs, generally brief pamphlets containing little information of practical value, and the procurement of "appraisal fees."

Would-be coin sellers are often advised to purchase a larger and more costly catalog, thus introducing an element of "bait" advertising into the scheme.

ONE COMPANY, against which a postal fraud order was issued, obtained an income of approximately $120,000 from the sale of catalogs. The catalogs cost $11,500, $5,000 was derived from the sale of coins and less than $4,000 expended in the purchase of coins.

Advertisements published under such headings as "Old Coins Wanted" frequently promise to pay large sums for specified coins. Respondents to such advertising are requested to send in a fee for a catalog which will enable them to identify valuable coins they may have in their possession.

Although an advertisement may ostensibly offer to pay a premium for a designated coin, such as Lincoln Pennies minted in certain years, the advertiser generally will only pay the amount stated for coins of specified condition, a fact often not revealed in advertisements.

Until required by the Federal Trade Commission to desist, phoney dealers would offer large sums for non-existent coins such as the 1912 Buffalo nickel and 1920 silver dollars.

FIRST THEY WERE callous enough to slop it with paint and to start axing away at the north entrance Westmoor High School Sign, but then they became frightened vandals, leaving behind their tools. Vandalism in our school districts continues to rise. So very few of the perpetrators are caught, and the costs are soaring. Whose children did this? (Post Photo)

About 'Coping'

There is a book for children that many adults are reading. "The Boy Who Wouldn't Talk" tells of Carlos who can not cope with the confusion of life in a big city, New York.

There is too much rushing about to suit him. Everyone eats at rapid speed, "too fast Mrs. Vega would tell them." Everyone is forever hurrying away from home to work, to school, to play. It was not so in Puerto Rico where Carlos was born.

In New York there are cars that zoom around corners and "smell awful and make too much noise." There are buildings instead of trees and grass. There are dogs on leashes, but none to play with boys. Ones relatives live too far away to visit.

BUT LANGUAGE is the most confusing thing in Carlos' life. There are too many words to learn — English is too complicated for Carlos — Besides people talk and talk and do not understand each other.

"I don't like having all these words for things," Carlos screams with frustration.

He notices that people understand a smile, a gesture, a picture, more than words. He learns that most of the things people say are meaningless and lead to unhappy moments.

I want "to live in a place where people do things and look at things instead of talking all the time." Thus he decides "I won't talk anymore!"

THEN COMES THE GREATEST confusion of all. His refusal to speak bothers the children in his class and upsets the entire school. His silence makes his brother lonely, his sisters angry. They scream at him and rip up the pictures he draws. The children in the street refuse to let him play in their games.

Carefully Carlos' mother talks to him. "Angel (his brother) needs to talk to someone in his room," she tells him. "It's not fair to your father and to me. We want all of our children to talk to us, Carlos .... We miss your talking, Carlos. You spoil things by being quiet and just nodding your head or shaking it."

But Carlos is a child. He cannot and will not understand that society grows worse when its members retreat from it. He cannot see that progress comes from the contribution of each individual.

The realization that he cannot withdraw from the world of men comes to Carlos when circumstances force him to help a blind boy. In serving another, Carlos grows happy. "I have a lot of things to tell you . . . I can't just draw pictures to tell you. It would take too many pictures," he shouts.

"THAT'S GOOD, everyone said. They were all smiling."

"The Boy Who Wouldn't Talk" is by Lois Kalb Bouchard who works in the poverty program in the lower east side area of Manhattan. This is her first book. She is currently working on another story for young readers, as well as children's plays." It is hoped they will embody the same insight as her present book.

Good Word!

WE GAVE the custodial staff at Westmoor what-for the other week after finding the front yard, so to speak, all entangled in weeds and nearly as brown as the dirt.

A point was being made — that there were too few persons on the custodial staff to handle all that had to be done, especially since the opening of Serramonte High drained off a worker.

Whatever was done to placate those who were making the point must have satisfied, for that particular piece of lawn is green again . . . and one can see the Westmoor sign again.

(There is however considerable browning over other parts of the lawn . . . another "point" to be made?)

Anyway, having been prodded, it is only proper they be applauded now, for their recent toil in removing the four-letter words (etc.) painted over windows and doors a couple of weeks ago.

It wasn't easy, but they did it. Too bad the vandals in question will never be caught. What a wonderful project for those idiotic, selfish minds that think so destructively.

End sermon. Good morning!

We're dedicated to the idea of helping our customers make more money. So at First National you get the highest rate paid by any insured financial institution in the country.
That's just the beginning.
We provide all the services a larger bank provides, but with a difference. For example, most banks are open daily only while you are working. No so at First National. If you come by as early as 8 o'clock in the morning, you'll find a cheerful bank officer there ahead of you, at a drive-in or walk-up window. And you will find him, still smiling, if you show up as late as 6 p.m.—5 p.m. on Fridays. That's a total of 52 hours a week, while most other banks are open only 28 hours.
That's not all.
You'll find one of four branches near you. And we are dedicated to the idea of serving you quickly, efficiently, and helpfully. Come in and see. You'll be glad you did.

THIS WAS A DEMONSTRATION, all right — of stamina — for some 1,000 Northern California cross-country runners representing about 50 schools. They gathered Saturday for the mass run at Terra Nova High School, tucked in the back hills of Linda Mar valley of Pacifica. Event is billed as largest in the north state. (Post Photo by Starr)

Church Notes

Sunday school children whose birthdays fell during the months of September and October will be honored at Congregation B'nai Israel, Colma, services and Oneg Shabbat at 8:30 p.m. Friday.

The Sisterhood will hold a membership get-together at 8 p.m. Monday at the Temple-house.

"By My Spirit" is the topic chosen by Westside Baptist Church Pastor A. David Donnelly for the 11 a.m. Sunday worship hour. "A Successful Evangelist" will be the 7 p.m. Family Fellowship topic.

Westside services are held in San Adreas School auditorium, Fairmont, Inverness Drive and Hickey Boulevard, Pacifica.

The San Mateo County Evangelical Ministers' Association, of which the Rev. David Donnelly is new president, will meet October 29 at noon at Peninsula Hospital.

A silent lunch and quiet meditation is planned at the United Methodist Church, 1474 Southgate, Daly City, for October 29, from noon to 2 p.m.

Seacliff and Wesley Methodist Churches, Daly City, will have a potluck supper Friday at the George Pettingell home, 150 Shell Street, Pacifica, at 7:30 p.m.

Newsbriefs...

The color and black and white photographic works of the Professional Photographers of Northern California are on display at Serramonte Shopping Center's Rainbow Fountain this week.

Teen Co-Rec in Pacifica has been suspended for today because of school business, the Park, Beach and Recreation Department announced.

Westmoor High School's Horseman's Association Club members are to attend the opening night of the Grand National Horse Show at Daly City's Cow Palace Friday, to not only view techniques in care and training of horses, but to watch their advisor, Mrs. Martha Wright, compete in color guard competition.

Thursday and Friday are the dates of the Capuchino Band Boosters' rummage sale, from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., at St. Dunstan's Hall, Millbrae. Sale will help pay expenses of band's entry into Merced and Long Beach competition.

A junior camporee will be held at Huddard Park Thursday, Friday and Saturday by Brownies of the Daly City Association of the San Francisco Bay Girl Scout Council. Mrs. Joan Stewart has details.

Final castings for the new Pacifica Spindrift Players' Christmas production of "Barnaby" will be held in Oddstadt Center, Crespi Drive, at 7 p.m. Thursday, according to director Luther Spraker.

Next meeting of the Serramonte High School parents will be October 29, according to Mrs. Evelyn DeAlba, who reports a membership campaign has been launched by the Serramonte High School Association's Executive Board.

The Nu Sigma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will be held in the home of Mrs. Caesar Sabbatani Thursday with Mrs. John Maguire presenting a program on "Awareness."

A spaghetti dinner will be served October 25, at Rollingwood Hall, 2570 Catalpa, San Bruno, by the Psi Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, at 7:30 p.m.

The Ursuline Guild of St. John's high school will hold the seventh in a series of "luncheons and games" October 28, at 11:30 a.m. in the school's auditorium 4056 Mission Street.

A kite contest will be held at the M. Pauline Brown schoolground in Daly City Saturday for boys and girls, ages seven to 15, according to the Daly City Recreation, Parks and Maintenance Department.

Mrs. Shelly Mangini and Mrs. Reva Krips are gathering signatures in Daly City for an Initiative measure for "strict air pollution control," to be submitted to state voters in 1970.

Housewife Faces 'Gun' In Park Lot

A Stockton youth was arrested by police at gunpoint minutes after he tried to hold up a young housewife at a Daly City supermarket late Sunday using a plastic toy pistol.

Mrs. Susan Fedor, 19, of Daly City, told police she was waiting inside the family car in the parking lot of the Mayfair Market on Geneva Avenue for her husband when the suspect shoved a gun through the open car window and demanded her money.

Instead of complying with the request, Mrs. Fedor started screaming, attracting several curious passersby.

Officer Robert Sola was just entering the parking lot on patrol when Mrs. Fedor began screaming.

He spotted the suspect fleeing the area and jumped back inside his patrol car.

Less than two blocks away — at Velasco and Rio Verde — he stopped the suspect's car and arrested John Wilkerson Jr.

Wilkerson was "armed" with a small plastic toy gun.

Arts Guild Events Are Announced

The primary calendar of the South San Francisco Arts Guild has been announced for its "Second season."

November 6, "Art as an Investment"; November 15, 8:30 p.m., International Folk Dancing to be presented at El Camino High School Little Theater.

December, Mexican Handicrafts; December 13 and 14, The Nutcracker performed by the Ballet Celeste and the San Francisco Conservatory of Ballet at South San Francisco High School.

January—San Francisco Bach Orchestra, at El Camino High School Little Theater; Oriental Carpets and Interior Decorating.

February, a single artist showing; Duo recital—dance troupe and Jacqueline Frazier, at El Camino High School Little Theater.

March, Sol Joseph piano recital; photographic decorating; jazz band concert.

April—Renaissance demonstration and recital, Brundage Collection.

May—Film Festival; San Francisco State College music ensemble concert.

June—South San Francisco and Peninsula Community Art Show.

New Bruno Police Aide

San Bruno police have a new captain.

William Michael Cann, however, isn't scheduled to report for work until November 1.

Cann, presently a sergeant on the Novato Police Department, fills the position vacated by the resignation of Earl "Jack" Doris on June 30.

The appointment was made under civil service procedure, including an open promotional examination by the city's civil service commission.

Cann began his law enforcement career in 1963 as a police officer for the city of San Anselmo. He received a police officers supervisory (POST) certificate in 1966, and took police science courses at Marin Junior College.

The city's new police captain is married and has two children.

Poet Lurie At Skyline

Toby Lurie, the poet who constructs poetry through the "word-thoughts" of his audience, will be featured in a single performance at Skyline College, Thursday, November 6, at 2 p.m. in Building 1, Room 131, Mrs. Pat Patterson, aide to Community Education, announced today.

All Skyline College students will be admitted to see Lurie's presentation free of charge. The general admission price is $1. The contemporary artist considers his transformation of word-thoughts into "sculptured sound" as a poetic happening.

Lurie contends that simple phrases can become vital when expressed in rhythmic patterns. While noting that some modest musical knowledge is helpful in reading this form of poetry.

Coast Teachers Fight Transfers

Terra Nova High School teachers, supported by the American Federation of Teachers' Local 1481, last week demanded with threat of a mini-strike that trustees suspend the administration's plans to transfer three teachers to Serramonte High School. But trustees declined to act and the transfers presumably will proceed as scheduled.

The Terra Nova teachers called for a full public hearing "with open discussion of all ramifications of these transfers." They urged that no transfers become effective until after such a meeting.

It had resolved at meetings:

A resolution explained that the teachers were "disenchanted over the current transfer policy"; pointed out that a decision "is being made at a board meeting where teachers are not able to attend due to a commitment to Back to School Night"; that the teachers are being transferred six weeks after school has started; that the administration "is responsible for their failure to make the transfers early in the semester."

The resolution also noted, "Many of our students will be slighted because of this administration error."

The teachers stated, "If the board turns us down, be it resolved that we call a general meeting of JUHSDTA (Jefferson Union High School District Teachers' Association) membership to propose suspension of services by means of a mini-strike."

AFT president Bob Delzell asked verbally for a fullscale hearing, noting his organization had approved a motion similar to that of the Terra Nova teachers, who were represented by Al Pucci.

Peter Zachariou, who described himself as both a teacher and a resident of the district, asked board "help" with the "problems."

He asserted his displeasure with student and teacher transfers, although he recognized that Serramonte High School had a right to its proper allocation of teachers.

Zachariou's Serramonte statement referred to the administration's action to transfer one teacher each from Terra Nova, Westmoor and Oceana High Schools.

Administrators pointed out that enrollment had dropped by some 320 students in the district, a fact that could not have been determined immediately after school started this term.

That left an "overage" of some 17 teachers district-wide, in relation to adopted student-teacher ratios.

But, there was another factor pointed to by Supt. Edward Morgan and Asst. Supt. Harold Tonini: Serramonte High, a new school has 100 more students that the straight-line projections had indicated.

Thus, they said, an imbalance exists there.

Flag Given Boys' Club

On behalf of San Bruno Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West, a flag was presented to the Boys' Club of South San Francisco.

A Halloween party will be held by San Bruno Parlor at their next meeting. Chairman of the evening will be Mrs Ernest Lemmens.

The official visit of the grand president, Nancy M. Conens at Nick's at Rockaway Beach, will be January 5, at 8 p.m.
